An Invitation from your Buddhist Chaplain

Dear Tufts community,

The Tufts Buddhist Chaplaincy and Tufts Buddhist Mindfulness Sangha are honored to invite you to share in the cultural treasures of Tibet and its diamond-point teachings on peace and wholeness, beginning next week. The Tibetan monks of Gaden Shartse Monastery will visit the Interfaith Center to celebrate Losar (Tibetan New Year), create a sand mandala, share practices, and give teaching. It is an incredibly unique opportunity to share in.

The Gaden Shartse Monastery, founded 600 years ago by the sage Je Tsongkhapa, is one of the most renowned monasteries in Tibetan Buddhist tradition. The monks’ education includes dialectic debate, Tibetan medicine, scriptural study, meditation, and special areas of study including mandala and thankga painting. In India and Tibet, as in America, the times are politically uncertain; these monks have, through meditation, used uncertainty to deepen their compassion.

A mandala represents simultaneously both an inner landscape and a physical realm within which every element of experience is unified, balanced and complete (you can see an example pictured above). In Tibetan tradition it is considered a great blessing to see a mandala, as it conveys a deep impression of wholeness, bringing about healing and peace. Each element of the color particle sand mandala has precise symbolic meaning. The structures portrayed are the structures of human consciousness. The surrounding circle represents dynamic awareness. The square symbolizes the four directions, the physical world. At each side of the square, a gate is constructed: these represent the four immeasurables: loving-kindness, compassion, sympathetic joy, and equanimity. Through these practices one enters the sacred ground. The particular mandala that will be created at Tufts is the mandala symbolizing Green Tara, the archetype of compassion-in-action.

Ultimately, the gift of the mandala is in its power to transform our own minds and the environment around us into a celestial realm, awakening us to the sacred aspect of Earth and our inseparable connection to all people and other forms of life. I do hope you can join in our celebration of Losar and our contemplation of the mandala, for yourself and your communities.

Details can be found here on the Buddhist Chaplaincy's website.

Metta and best wishes,
Ji Hyang Padma

“Single Garment of Destiny”

Lunch and Learns

FEBRUARY 2024

Join the Africana Center, the Office of the Vice Provost for Institutional Inclusive Excellence, and the University Chaplaincy for a special “Single Garment of Destiny” Lunch and Learn to celebrate the living legacy of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Grafton Campus
Monday, February 12
12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.
with lunch available
beginning at 11:30 a.m.
Kohnstamm Conference Room
106 Jean Mayer Admin Building

Boston Campus
Wednesday, February 14
11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.
with lunch available
beginning at 11:45 a.m.
Posner Hall
200 Harrison Ave.

The 2024 theme for our MLK gatherings this year, “Single Garment of Destiny,” comes from the 1963 “Letter from Birmingham Jail” which includes this quote:

“Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly affects all indirectly. Never again can we afford to live with the narrow, provincial ‘outside agitator’ idea.”

These Lunch and Learns are available to all Tufts faculty, staff and students on both campuses. We hope that you can attend, and that you will register for either event no later than Friday, February 9th.

Please contact chaplaincy@tufts.edu with any questions.

"Single Garment of Destiny" Lunch and Learns
Join the Africana Center, the Office of the Vice Provost for Institutional Inclusive Excellence, and the University Chaplaincy for a special “Single Garment of Destiny” Lunch and Learn to celebrate the living legacy of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Co-sponsored by the School of Dental Medicine, Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy, Center for Black Maternal Health & Reproductive Justice and Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine, these events will be held on the Boston Health Sciences and Grafton campuses, respectively. This event will feature recorded excerpts from the keynote at the January 31st MLK Day of Celebration offered by Christian Walkes, Director of Education and Interpretation Programs at the Museum of African American History, followed by an opportunity to engage in table conversation about his insights from King’s “Letter from Birmingham Jail” and the meaning of his message for us today. Please contact the University Chaplaincy if you have any questions.
On Ash Wednesday, many mark the beginning of Lent by honoring the ancient call to be rooted in our truest selves through prayer, reflection, and acts of discipline. It is a call to journey through the wilderness as we move towards the Cross and the Empty Tomb.

All are welcome to join in this time of prayer, singing, and reflection hosted by Catholic Chaplain Lynn Cooper and Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell.

For questions or more information, contact chaplaincy@tufts.edu.
As a part of Black Legacy Month, the Office of the Vice Provost for Institutional Excellence and co-sponsors Africana Center, LGBT Center, Tisch College, and the University Chaplaincy will be screening Rustin. Bayard Rustin was the architect of 1963’s March on Washington. He challenged authority and never apologized for who he was, but was forgotten, despite making history. Directed by George C. Wolfe and starring Oscar-nominated actor Colman Domingo, Rustin shines a long overdue spotlight on the extraordinary man who, alongside giants like the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., Adam Clayton Powell Jr., and Ella Baker, dared to imagine a different world, and inspired a movement in a march toward freedom. Register to attend below.
Gospel Explosion Night at Harvard MemChurch
Saturday, Feb 17, at 5:00 p.m., at the Harvard Memorial Church (1 Harvard Yard Cambridge, MA 02138)

The Southern University Gospel Choir from Baton Rouge, La. will fill the Memorial Church Sanctuary on Feb. 17 with a chorus of 50 powerful voices singing traditional spiritual music in celebration of Black History Month. The choir, created more than 50 years ago, is well known in gospel music circles in the south and across the nation. The Rev. Dr.
Calvon Jones, Assistant Minister in the Memorial Church, a gospel singer who released his first album in 2021, said he discovered the choir nearly a decade ago and was excited to create this collaboration with Southern University and A&M College, a historically Black college and university. Find more details about the event below.

Burning Refuge: the inaugural Buddhism and Social-Spiritual Liberation Conference
Thursday, March 7 - Saturday, March 9, Harvard Divinity School

In March 2024, an exciting and radical conference will host its inaugural offering at Harvard Divinity School to convene critical and interdisciplinary Buddhist scholarship, activism, and arts to chart a path forward into true social-spiritual liberation. We assert that the dream of ultimate social-spiritual liberation is possible and is thus our great task – we invite you to set out on this mission with us and make a vow of commitment. Will you join us? This year, we are thrilled to bring together a diverse group of scholars, practitioners, and esteemed teachers to explore the profound intersections of Buddhism and individual and collective liberation. Register here to present your research.

Upcoming Religious Celebrations and Observances
These events are drawn from the multifaith calendar maintained by the Office of Religious and Spiritual Life at Harvard Divinity School. To see more upcoming religious holidays and festivals, please follow the link to the Harvard Divinity School calendar.

Laylat al-Isra’wa al-Mi’raj (Mi’raj al-Nabiy)
Thu., Feb. 8, 2024
Tradition: Islam
Commemorates the ascension (al-Mi'raj) of the Prophet to heaven following his night journey (al Isra’) from Mecca to Jerusalem and his ascent to heaven and return the same night. Begins at sundown.

Vasant Panchami (Sri Pancami)
Tue., Feb. 13, 2024
Tradition: Hinduism
One of many festivals to honor the advent of spring, this day is celebrated particularly in North India, where it is associated with Saraswati, the goddess of learning; however, it also retains connection with the goddess Lakshmi.

Ash Wednesday
Wed., Feb. 14, 2024
Tradition: Christianity-Protestant, Christianity-Roman Catholic
A special day of repentance observed by Protestant and Roman Catholic Christians to mark the beginning of Lent, the 40-day period (excluding Sundays) of prayer, repentance, and self-denial preceding Easter. The name derives from the practice of marking of the faithful with ashes to signify penitence.

Nirvana Day
Thu., Feb. 15, 2024
Tradition: Buddhism
In the northern tradition, it commemorates the parinirvana of the Buddha. In cultures of Southeast Asia, the Buddha's parinirvana is remembered during Wesak. The dates and names of Buddhist celebrations vary significantly among cultures and communities.

Laylat al-Bara’ah
Sun., Feb. 25, 2024
Tradition: Islam
Begins at sundown.
(Night of Repentance)
On this night, God approaches the Earth to call humanity and to grant forgiveness of sins. Observed on the 14th day of the lunar month of Sha’ban.
