Yellow maple leaves on Medford/Somerville campus

Welcome Letter

There is nothing so wise as a circle.

-Rilke

Dear Tufts Community,

As the days cool and fall colors begin to appear across campus, I bring you greetings of peace and a note of farewell. I joined the Tufts community at the end of last summer and my time as interim chaplain has come full circle to the start of another academic term. It has been a genuine pleasure and a blessing to get to know this community over the course of the year. I hope you will join me in welcoming the permanent Tufts University Chaplain, Rev. Elyse Nelson Winger, who joins the team on Thursday, October 1.

So much has happened and so much awaits our attention. It is easy to feel impatient and want to rush past the uncertainties. But I invite you to be present to this moment and absorb the insights of all your senses. I invite you to embrace this season of learning and the gift of your education, knowing it will bear fruit in a new season.

Please enjoy this issue of ENews. The opportunities to connect are abundant. The invitations to reach out to us are genuine. If you don't find what you're looking for here, let us know so we can co-create something new.

Warmly,

Jenny

Jennifer Howe Peace, Ph.D.

Be-Friend: Interfaith Friendship Program

In this acute moment, building and nourishing relationships is vital to good health and wellbeing. This 9-week interfaith friendship project is designed to help you go deep and to talk about things that matter like your values, your sense of purpose, and your questions about life. You will learn the skill of active listening while experimenting with shared spiritual practices from different religious and philosophical traditions. Several of our chaplains have contributed to the program offering a diverse array of spiritual practices, including nature walks, meditation exercises, listening to music, deep reading—of poetry, art, the world, our lives and one another. Participants are paired in dyads and commit to spending an hour together each week, as well as another half hour in private reflection. Please follow this link to view the flyer pictured. Please note: there is a program for students, and a parallel program for faculty and staff; students will be paired with other students, and faculty and staff will be paired with other faculty and staff members. Contact Catholic Chaplain Lynn Cooper if you are interested or have any questions; there is no deadline to apply by.

Rooting Out Racism: An Online Retreat for White Christian Folks

Launching in October; dates and times to be determined

Author Isabel Wilkerson notes that, “This moment we’re in is not just a social crisis and not just a political crisis. It’s a spiritual crisis.” The Catholic and Protestant Chaplaincies are seeking to address this spiritual crisis by offering a small group series based on “Rooting out Racism,” a pray-at-your-own-pace online retreat consisting of streaming audio reflections and prayer prompts. It invites white Christians to search their souls, understand how Christianity has contributed to racial inequity, and to commit more deeply to uprooting racism from their hearts and from the world. The group will meet over the course of five weeks in small groups facilitated by Catholic Chaplain Lynn Cooper and Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell for discussion and mutual support. If you would like to participate or learn more, please email Catholic chaplain Lynn Cooper or Protestant chaplain Dan Bell.

CREW Climate Prep Week

September 24 - 30 2020

Communities Responding to Extreme Weather (CREW) Climate Preparedness Week, is a network of local leaders building grassroots climate resilience through inclusive & hands-on education, service, and planning. CREW was a collaborator for this year's CAFE program, and is dedicated to learning, service, and actions that better prepare our communities for extreme weather events. By coming together to host events, CREW provides the resources and space to think about the ways that climate change disadvantages some communities more than others.

The theme for the virtual conference this year is: Social Resilience is Climate Resilience. In light of the recent critical conversations around racial justice in society, the conference will be focusing several of the central events around the intersections of climate resilience, racial justice and social resilience. Find out more on their website, and click here to download the flyer.

Yom Kippur (Or Day of Atonement)

Sunday, 9.27 – Monday, 9.28.2020

Tradition: Judaism

The conclusion of the Ten Days of Awe, Yom Kippur is the holiest and most solemn of all days in the Jewish year. It is characterized by repentance, fasting, and forgiveness. Begins at sundown.

Sukkot

Friday, 10.2 – Friday, 10.9.2020

Tradition: Judaism

Also known as Feast of Booths. An eight-day Jewish festival of booths (or tabernacles) and the fall harvest. The name refers to the booths (sukkot) used by Israelites during desert wanderings and constructed in the fields during the harvest season. It is a time of thanksgiving for God's presence in creation and among the Jewish people. The Eighth Day (Shmini 'Atzeret) is considered both the end of Sukkot and a distinct festival.
