The University Chaplaincy is a dynamic hub supporting religious, spiritual, ethical, and cultural life for all members of the harvest season. It is a time of thanksgiving for God's presence in creation and among the Jewish people. The Tradition: Judaism

The conclusion of the Ten Days of Awe, Yom Kippur is the holiest and most solemn of all days in the Jewish year. It is a time to reflect on the Transcendent and to find peace with ourselves and God. It is a time to prepare for the start of a new year. This year, the University Chaplaincy offers a program that is free of charge to all participants thanks to the Young Adult Ministries budget of the Diocese of Massachusetts. The program is designed to help participants gain practices of discernment, which "help us listen to our lives and sort out where the Holy Spirit may be active." Dr. Elyse Nelson Winger, who joins the team on Thursday, October 1, will host the program.

Learning to Walk with God in the World: Online Retreat Hosted by the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts

The program is open to all members of the University community, and no prior knowledge of The Episcopal Church is required. Participants will learn about the history, beliefs, and practices of The Episcopal Church, and how they can apply their understanding to their own lives.

By coming together to host events, CREW provides the resources and space to think about the ways in which we can work towards a more just and equitable world. The challenges of a global pandemic, racial justice in society, the conference will be focusing several of the events, and the resources and space to think about the ways in which we can work towards a more just and equitable world.

The winner of the Apple Watch raffle is Jimmy Wang, who will be receiving his prize soon. The survey helps the University Chaplaincy understand the needs and interests of its community, and is an important tool for planning future events and programs.

For more information about the University Chaplaincy, please visit our website. The invitations to reach out to us are genuine. If you don't find what you're looking for here, let us know so we can co-create something new.

Tufts University Chaplain

Elyse Nelson Winger, who joins the team on Thursday, October 1.