New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) has reaffirmed its status among the nation’s most elite and productive research institutions by once again achieving an R1 status — the highest designation — by the Carnegie Classification.

Xu studied COVID vaccine data from Minnesota to design equitable methods of distributing vital resources during any widespread emergency.

Imagine designing an inexpensive, flat and strong structure that bends perfectly into Spaceship Earth from Disney's EPCOT theme park.

Could the Russo-Ukrainian conflict critically impact NJ business, infrastructure and financial institutions?

According to Reza Curtmola, director of the Cybersecurity Research Center, the increased dependence on remote conferencing platforms such as Zoom and Microsoft Teams could potentially pose a risk to industry in the Garden State - if Russia decided to make it a target.