Namaste dear friends,

This past Saturday, February 5, 2022, we celebrated Saraswati Puja, more widely known as Vasant Panchami, traditionally marking the beginning of preparations for the spring season in the Indian subcontinent. Many dedicate this day to the worship of Goddess Saraswati. My own family dressed in bright shades of yellow, as many Bengalis do on this day, and sang devotional songs. Yellow is the color of the Manipura chakra (wheel of energy), located in the solar plexus area. One of its many functions is imbuing our will with strength and the fire element.

A Reflection from our Hindu Advisor
During Saraswati Puja, we honor the many talents that have been bestowed upon us by Her as well all the amazing gifts that allow us to create as the Goddess does – writing, painting, playing music, drawing, singing, and any kind of learning and knowledge.

I try to remember that knowledge is the basis for wisdom in our lives and that we use our aligned will to shape it. Wisdom is defined as the ability to use your knowledge and experience to make good decisions. Without aligning our will to the Greatest Good, knowledge can create chaos, information overload, and even be destructive. But with alignment, wisdom can be a guide.

What do you do in order to nourish your wisdom? What do you need to process what you learn, and integrate your sense of self and values? For me, it’s sitting in stillness to hear my inner voice at least once a day. In this light, I leave you with these words of the Saraswati Vidya Mantra, to improve our learning powers.

Saraswati Namasthubhyam Varade Kamarupini
Vidyarambham Karishyami Siddhir Bavathume Sadha

Salutations to Devi Saraswati, Who is the giver of Boons and fulfiller of Wishes, O Devi, when I begin my knowledge pursuits, Please bestow on Me the capacity of Right Understanding, always.

I wish you time and space to be with your wisdom this month.

Dhanyavaadah and best wishes,
Preeta Banerjee

Kalyānamitta: A Good Friend Show
Proposals due Wednesday, February 16, by 11:59 p.m. ET

Friendship is the foundation for us to care more about each other. This show, hosted by the School of the Museum of Fine Arts (SMFA) and the University Chaplaincy, invites us to pay attention to our relationships with other people, animals, and the world and use art to reflect and express our friendships with other beings. This call is rooted in Four Jātaka Stories from the Theravada Buddhist tradition. Choose one that resonates with you, and respond in any art medium. Your artwork will be the centerpiece of an interfaith collaboration in March and April at SMFA and Medford campuses. We will celebrate your art-work in conversation with the stories. You can connect with Assistant Director of Student Affairs Sarah Valente with any questions, and find the submission form here.
See No Stranger at Tufts Learning Series
Sign up by Monday, February 21

You are invited to join a See No Stranger Learning Series with the University Chaplaincy, in preparation for our Russell Lecturer and Tisch College Solomont Speaker, Valarie Kaur. Facilitated groups will meet for an hour each week for three weeks in late February and early March to discuss themes and sections from Kaur’s book, See No Stranger: A Memoir and Manifesto of Revolutionary Love. We will consider together what Revolutionary Love looks and feels like to us and our community. Books will be provided to students, and summaries of the week’s topic will be provided. There is no expectation of finishing the book, and we welcome you as a discussion partner. Please contact University Chaplaincy program manager Nora Bond with any questions and accessibility needs. There are multiple group meeting times, and we hope you will join us. Please sign up by Monday, February 21 via this link.
Discernment Dinners
Time and Location To Be Decided

The Protestant Chaplaincy is continuing discernment dinners from last semester and looking for the right time to meet. Please fill out the Doodle poll if interested. These gatherings are an opportunity to reflect together on how anyone in the Tufts community understands their callings in life based on a sense of purpose and passion. We are using this book, which Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell will provide to you upon request. Just email him for a copy. Newcomers of any religious or philosophical tradition are welcome.

Partner Programs
The Bridging Differences Task Force is now accepting proposals for the next round of seed grant funding. Selected proposals will be funded by the Office of the Provost to support diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts across Tufts. Any Tufts student, faculty or staff member may apply for up to $2,000 in funding for initiatives that will be implemented in the spring, summer, and fall of the 2022 calendar year. The Bridging Differences Task Force encourages applications that are proposed by members of multiple campuses or by a cross-section of students, staff, and faculty. Projects that aim to unify multiple campuses or cross-sections of the Tufts community are highly encouraged. Final funding decisions will be made based on overall impact score, available funds, and the funding level required for project implementation with the goal of accepting proposals from a range of colleges. All applicants will be notified of the outcome of their submission, and accepted proposals will be posted on our website. To learn more and access the application, please visit this site.

Resources, Scholarships, and Opportunities
Gut and Other Knowledges in Religions of the African Diaspora
Wednesday, February 23, 1:00 p.m., via Zoom

Dr. Elizabeth Pérez discusses practices of embodied knowledge production and transmission in such Afro-Diasporic religions as Cuban Lucumí, Haitian Vodou, and Brazilian Candomblé. In conversation with CSWR Research Associate Dr. Giovanna Parmigiani, she connects the insights from her first book on sacred food preparation with current scholarship on gut feelings, knowing, and beings in Black Atlantic traditions. Distinguishing between intellectual comprehension and the types of understanding that practitioners derive from ritual experience, Dr. Pérez explains that the connections between the belly and the brain have only begun to be explored in Black Atlantic traditions. Elizabeth Pérez is Associate Professor of Religious Studies at the University of California, Santa Barbara. You can register for the talk here.
