At Tufts, we understand that a central concern of undergraduate education is the development of students' capacity to love. We seek to cultivate our students to be agents of love, who are dedicated to loving self, loving opponents, and loving others, and are woven throughout with the cultural traditions of the religious and non-religious communities and individuals who work together for the common good. Ambassadors will have the opportunity to participate in various campus activities focused on numinous encounter, formation, and transformation. Ambassadors will also have the opportunity to participate in an online learning opportunity centered around the book See No Stranger by Valarie Kaur. This book, a memoir and manifesto, brings revolutionary love to life. Revolutionary love is a deep, personal, and grounded spirituality of engagement working through acts of love in the world. Revolutionary love is dedicated to remembering the dream of a more just, equal, and sustainable world.

We seek candidates who are committed to living out the values of revolutionary love in their own lives, and to bring this love into the community. Ambassadors will be expected to attend monthly meetings, participate in one on one mentoring relationships, and work with the University Chaplaincy on various projects. Ambassadors will also have the opportunity to participate in a community of practice with other Ambassadors and participate in an online learning opportunity centered around the book See No Stranger by Valarie Kaur.
