in the interceding weeks, you will have the option to connect with an assigned partner to share your responses to the stories and deeper ways of engaging social transformation. The group will meet every other Wednesday from 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Zoom from June 16 – July 14 for discussion and reflection on the major themes of the text.

The month of May welcomes us with a myriad of reasons for celebration -- Mother's Day, Cinco de Mayo and the month of Ramadan. This last is a time particularly helpful in a year marked by loneliness and isolation. You can celebrate the end of Ramadan, the month of fasting, this day celebrates the end of Ramadan, the month of fasting. It comes on the first day of the next lunar month in Southeast Asian cultures; in Tibetan culture, Wesak commemorates only the enlightenment (Pascha, Orthodox Easter). Roman Catholic and Protestant Christians often observe Pentecost on a different date (Pentecost, Christian). The date observed by Protestants and Roman Catholics is often different from the date observed by Orthodox Christians.

To those graduating I pray you may bask in all the glory that this public affirmation and ritual ceremony brings. And going, the ebbing and flowing, the reaping and sowing are given witness. This public affirmation not only marks the transition to the careers and lives that you have pictured for yourselves but also the end of a time of reflection. The Holy Month of Ramadan is the month of fasting during which Muslims who are physically able do not eat or drink from dawn until dusk. Fasting promotes self-discipline, spiritual growth, and builds community. The month begins on the first day of the Islamic calendar and lasts until the end of the sixth lunar month. During this time, Muslims are encouraged to pray, do good deeds, and give to charity.
