In the News

Fossil records skew towards wealthier countries

Researchers in the Department of Communication will offer this training as part of a funded study training this spring - participants are paid for their time.

Mason faculty, post-docs, and graduate students invited to participate in science communication training as part of larger study.

Participants who register by February 7, 2022 | 7 to 8:15 p.m. are eligible for a small stipend.

Share this email:

In the News

Fossil records skew towards wealthier countries

Researchers in the Department of Communication will offer this training as part of a funded study training this spring - participants are paid for their time.

Mason faculty, post-docs, and graduate students invited to participate in science communication training as part of larger study.

Participants who register by February 7, 2022 | 7 to 8:15 p.m. are eligible for a small stipend.

Share this email: