Across the Five Boroughs. The day-long kickoff event features speakers, roundtables, lightning talks, and networking opportunities for those interested in digital humanities. This event is an opportunity to learn new techniques and skills, hear about the latest research, and connect with other professionals in the field. NYCDH Week offers individuals across the region who work in libraries, archives, and other cultural institutions a chance to share their work and contribute to the growing field of digital humanities.

For more information on NYCDH Week, please visit their website at NYCDHWeek.org.

---

In This Issue:

- Winter Events
  - Introduction to Text Mining Workshop
  - Teaching With Text Mining
  - Scholarship in Mediatexts: Make Weird Videos with DLA
  - Recounting Algorithms: A Workshop on Critical Algorithm Studies in the Library

---

External Opportunities

- University of Toronto Mississauga Library
  - Duke Summer Institute: Students interested in digital humanities and cultural analytics are invited to apply for the Duke Summer Institute. The institute will be held from June 14 to June 27, 2020. Details and application information can be found on the University of Toronto Mississauga Library website.

---

Project Highlight

- Digital History in the Classrooms
  - Leanne Pope, Co-Director of the Middle School and College Success Program at the DLA, describes how she incorporated digital history projects into her classroom curriculum. Her students used Omeka, a platform for creating digital exhibits, to create a project on the story of the 19th Amendment. The project aimed to enrich the intersections of critical inquiry and library services.

---

Apply for Funding

- NHPRICED
  - The National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRICED) is now accepting applications for the 2020-2021 academic year. The Commission offers funding for projects that promote the preservation and dissemination of historical records and information. Details and application information can be found on the NHPRICED website.

---

Support Us

- Become a Member
  - Support the DLA by becoming a member. Memberships start at $25 and provide access to exclusive events, networking opportunities, and news updates. Visit our website to learn more and join today.

---

Contact Us

- Duke Libraries Digital Learning and Assessment (DLA)
  - For more information about the DLA and its services, please visit our website at duke.edu/dla. You can also contact us directly at digitallearning@duke.edu.