It's a great time to be in SCIENCE!

THE FACE OF SCIENCE: Tarah O'Sullivan

Tarah O’Sullivan, mother of two children with rare genetic diseases, was selected to address Clemson’s undergraduate and graduate students and alumni.

Alumni Spotlight: Matthew Troutman

Matthew Troutman is a chemical physics expert whose research in computational astrophysics has led to several high-profile publications. His work has been recognized with awards and grants.

MLK Award for Excellence in Service: Kersey Meggett

Kersey Meggett is a former Clemson student who now serves as the director of the ClemsonLIFE program, providing a college experience for students with developmental disabilities.

Student Engagement: Tigers on Call 2019

The event, which brings together alumni and students, aims to connect them with career opportunities in various fields.

Renowned scientist is coming to campus

Kinsey Meggett, a senior studying biochemistry, has been chosen as this year's student recipient of the MLK Award for Excellence in Service.

MORE COLLEGE OF SCIENCE EVENTS

- SCIENCE ON TAP (Greenville): Forget Your Fears: Individual Differences in Fear, with David Reiss, Ph.D., at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 12.
- SCIENCE ON TAP (Clemson): Coming to a Community Near You — Empowered, with Tarah O’Sullivan, at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 25.
- MLK Award for Excellence in Service: Kersey Meggett, in Freeman Hall, at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 31.
- Student Engagement: Tigers on Call 2019, at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 31.
- Renowned scientist is coming to campus, with Kinsey Meggett, a senior studying biochemistry, at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 31.

COLLEGE NEWS

- Alumni Spotlight: Matthew Troutman, a chemical physics expert, whose research in computational astrophysics has led to several high-profile publications.
- MLK Award for Excellence in Service: Kersey Meggett, a former Clemson student who now serves as the director of the ClemsonLIFE program.
- Student Engagement: Tigers on Call 2019, which brings together alumni and students to connect them with career opportunities.
- Renowned scientist is coming to campus, with Kinsey Meggett, a senior studying biochemistry, as the year's student recipient.

CALENDAR

- Feb. 12: SCIENCE ON TAP (Greenville): Forget Your Fears: Individual Differences in Fear, with David Reiss, Ph.D., at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 12.
- Feb. 14: SCIENCE ON TAP (Clemson): Coming to a Community Near You — Empowered, with Tarah O’Sullivan, at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 25.
- Student Engagement: Tigers on Call 2019, at 2:30 p.m. Jan. 31.
- Renowned scientist is coming to campus, with Kinsey Meggett, a senior studying biochemistry, as the year's student recipient.

MORE INFORMATION

Find out more about SCIENCE: Visit clemson.edu/science.

Student engagement is important to us. We are committed to providing a diverse range of programs and activities to support the academic and personal growth of our students.

It's a great time to be in SCIENCE!