C3Pathways is partnering with ALERRT to offer a Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity on September 17th to address social media threats and how to work through preventative measures.

It is well known that many attackers leak information prior to carrying out an attack. In order to increase the level of knowledge in social media threat analysis I am offering a Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity. This session is designed to help law enforcement and first responders to form a more complete profile of the threat maker and increase the likelihood that they can stop a potential attack.

The training will be 1.5 hours in length and will take place on Thursday, September 17th, 2020.

Publication Date: September 2020

- Session: Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity
- Date: September 17th
- Duration: 1.5 hours
- Location: Online via Zoom

For more information or to join us, please visit ALERRTconference.org or contact us at info@alerrt.org.

In order to increase the level of knowledge in social media threat analysis I am offering a Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity. This session is designed to help law enforcement and first responders to form a more complete profile of the threat maker and increase the likelihood that they can stop a potential attack.

The training will be 1.5 hours in length and will take place on Thursday, September 17th, 2020.

Publication Date: September 2020

- Session: Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity
- Date: September 17th
- Duration: 1.5 hours
- Location: Online via Zoom

For more information or to join us, please visit ALERRTconference.org or contact us at info@alerrt.org.

In order to increase the level of knowledge in social media threat analysis I am offering a Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity. This session is designed to help law enforcement and first responders to form a more complete profile of the threat maker and increase the likelihood that they can stop a potential attack.

The training will be 1.5 hours in length and will take place on Thursday, September 17th, 2020.

Publication Date: September 2020

- Session: Social Media Threat Assessment Training Opportunity
- Date: September 17th
- Duration: 1.5 hours
- Location: Online via Zoom

For more information or to join us, please visit ALERRTconference.org or contact us at info@alerrt.org.