Reducing the Stigma

Stephen Hinshaw speaks about his new book, "Another Kind of Madness: a journey through stigma and hope of mental illness"

Stephen Hinshaw, Ph.D., a professor of psychology at UC Berkeley and of psychiatry at UC San Francisco, and an internationally renowned researcher of child psychopathology, shares his family’s journey with mental illness — and his voice to reduce the stigma.

Tuesday, October 10, 2017
5:30 p.m. - 7:15 p.m.
UC Davis Health
Education Building Lecture Hall 1222
4610 X Street, Sacramento, CA 95817
For more information click here
RSVP Here!

12th Annual Psychotic Disorders Conference
November 6, 2017

Mental Health Policy

AB 1350 (Mullin): “Mental health early psychosis and mood disorder detection and intervention” moved to the governor’s desk for signature on September 11.

AB 1340 (Maienschein): “Continuing medical education: mental and physical health care integration” moved to the governor’s desk for signature on September 9.

Mental Health Policy News

9/15/17: Meeting the Need: Why UC Davis is Training Primary Care Providers in Psychiatric Care

9/15/17: UC Davis Mental Health "Modernizing Mental Health"

9/14/17: UC Davis再次在The Steinberg Institute中讨论了扩大心理健康和疾病的多学科劳动力的必要性，UC Davis的Train New Trainers Fellowship正在取得进展。

9/13/17: University of California president Janet Napolitano and Dignity Health president Lloyd Dean co-chair the new California Future Health Workforce Commission which plans to focus on primary care, mental health and the aging population.