Campus and University News

Student Regent & Housing Information

I'm writing to share some exciting developments in Student Life this week! Sarah, our Student Regent, met with students Brian and Sarah this week who are entering their senior year. They have a great time at UCSB Health and Wellness and are looking forward to the next month! If you'd like to participate in dialogues with other students and Center fellows, please join us. Student travel, accommodations, and food costs will be covered by the Center.

Free Expression on Campus

The UC National Center for Free Speech and Civic Engagement is hosting its first conference, "The Future of Free Expression on Campus," on March 21, 2019 at the UCDC. #Speech Matters: The Future of Free Speech and Civic Engagement is seeking a diverse pool of applicants to travel with us to Washington D.C. to attend the conference and participate in a tour of National Capitol Hill to discuss free speech and civic engagement with policymakers, academics, journalists and others from around the country. It could be the 4th ever Gaucho to be selected to represent UCSB. Attend an info session with the current Student Regent to learn more about the "Fact Finders" opportunity and apply by January 31st.

Earth Week Events

The Latin American and Iberian Studies Program at UCSB is calling for papers for its upcoming first Undergraduate Student Conference, "Iberian World." The conference will be held on March 15th and 16th, 2019. Students are encouraged to submit their work for credit and develop their leadership skills by applying to be an ED Co-Leader of the conference. The conference will feature speakers including Yael; the Dean of Student Life, Katya Armistead, Ed.D., and a keynote presentation by Barnard College professor, Arlene D. Moody.
