Getting in Touch with Democracy: Participate in a Democracy 101 Conversation

Democracy 101 is a series hosted by the Community Service Learning Center (CSLC) that strives to educate the Grand Valley community about what it means to be an active and involved citizen in the world today. Topics include redistricting and gerrymandering, youth activism in government, women in politics, and so much more. By attending these events, you’ll have the opportunity to learn something about the political history of our country, how we got here, and where we are headed.

Learn New Crafts with the CSLC

Grand Valley is hosting a weekly crafting session called Crafty Community. Each Tuesday from 8 to 9:30 p.m, the Community Service Service Learning Center (CSLC) hosts different tutorials over Zoom on how to make fun crafts to donate to charity, design cards, and create gifts for those close to you. Each week has a different focus and allows participants to grow in their crafting knowledge and expertise. You can invite as many friends as you’d like!
