Dear Colleague,

As you savor every minute of the last weeks of summer, I'm enjoying a few days of skiing on the snowy slopes of Argentine Patagonia.

With the spring-summer season in the southern hemisphere drawing closer, the cool companies and places in our portfolio are ready to host your clients and make their trips unforgettable.

Some of them — like Enchanted Expeditions with its Enchanted Galapagos Lodge and Grand Hotels Lux with its Grand Hotel Punta del Este in Uruguay — have used the pandemic lockdown to inject new investments into the properties and undertake full renovations.

Others — like Colombian Journeys and Chile Concept — have been training and adding new staff. And Las Torres Reserve has been doing incredible conservation work, improving the existing hiking trails within Torres del Paine National Park.

Our friends at La Coralina Island House in Panama still have space for their Yoga Retreats in December. So if you have any yogis among your clientele, send them through! On the other hand, if your clients are surfers or adventure travelers, make a note that the ISA World Master Surfing Championship is taking place in Bocas del Toro from January 27 to February 5 next year. La Coralina is a great option for those kinds of travelers!

Meanwhile, don't wait till the very last minute to make Festive Season bookings. Our clients still have great offers for anyone who wants a December or early January getaway to a warm, tropical place.

Hopefully, you're inspired by the Central and South America travel ideas in this month's newsletter. Enjoy the read and find the perfect getaway below!

Best regards,

Ana, on behalf of The Emerging Destinations team (Jane + Jessie + Jenna + Ana)
