Dear Colleague,

Even though I recently enjoyed a two-week vacation in Rio de Janeiro, worldwide circumstances make me feel like it's time to spend more time with my loved ones and reconnect in a peaceful and remote place.

If you're feeling the same, I invite you to armchair travel with our South and Central American clients. Sit back and imagine what it's like to snorkel or scuba the coral reefs of Bocas del Toro in Panama, soak in the Tabacon Hot Springs of Costa Rica, swim with penguins, sea lions and marine iguanas in the Galapagos Islands, trek Chile's incomparable Torres del Paine National Park, birdwatch in the Antioquia rainforest in Colombia, feel the spray on your face at Iguazú Falls in northern Argentina, bike the jacaranda-lined avenues of Buenos Aires, or simply taste a Tannat wine at any of Punta del Este's renowned cellars or vineyards.

And if you decide to convert any of those dreams into reality, take the time to catch up on the latest news and offers in this month's newsletter from our cool clients in the western hemisphere . . . and pick your next travel destination!

If you need assistance with anything, we're always here for you. Also, feel free to book a virtual appointment with us (above) so we can chat and help with your trip planning.

Best regards,

Ana, on behalf of The Emerging Destinations team (Jane + Jessie + Jenna + Ana)
