To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Last year, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes

In 2020, the theme was textile waste, and winning ideas included a weighted blanket made from recycled fabric, and a reimagined thrift store. This year, the theme is focused on climate change, and challenges them to develop a solution to a local climate-related problem.

2020 DC Climathon
What will our legacy be?

November 11th - November 13th

The services experiences will focus on: Disaster Relief, Immigrant Rights, and Border Relations and Immigration. Systemic Racism, Indigenous Rights and Education, and Sustainability, Community Empowerment and Personal Development.

GW Votes