PATHS NEWSLETTER

COURSES

Public History
Program Director: Professor Alice Goff

In this two quarter course, students will engage in the theory and practice of public history in partnership with organizations doing community-oriented work. Students will create public history projects that will be hard deadlines. The final projects will be part of your portfolio and may include a full-length exhibit, websites, or videos. Based work will be done collaboratively; working with partners means that there may not be a “right” or “wrong” answer. Students will be encouraged to think about the role of public history in society and how it would advance your academic and/or professional goals. The learning experience will be anchored in hands-on community-based research and activities, and each student will have a faculty advisor to support their interest and relevant background experience to André G. Wenzel.

Application Deadline: November 19, 2021

PATHS Virtual Trek: Career Insights - Media & Publishing

During the late mornings and early afternoons of December 6-7, attendees will meet with alumni from a variety of organizations, including The New Yorker, Hyperallergic, Oxford University Press, and more. Interested? Visit paths@uchicago.edu for more details (ID# 73001-005).

PATHS Virtual Trek: Career Insights - Think Tanks

Career Convo: Research Careers
November 2, 2021; 11-noon CT; Online via Zoom

Tia Sheng, Senior Analyst, The Stimson Center

Tia Sheng is a Senior Analyst at the Stimson Center, where she conducts research on China’s foreign policy, security, and regional relations. She leads the Stimson Center’s China and the Asia-Pacific Initiative, which examines the implications of China’s growing power and influence in the region. Sheng discusses her current role as a research analyst at the Stimson Center, her career journey, and share her advice for graduate students who are interested in research careers. The session will be moderated by Dr. Erik莓. Register in TrueRemove (Hybrid) Wednesday, Nov. 3; 10:00-11:00am CT; GRAD HQ

CAREER INSIGHTS

Did You Know?

The UChicago Press is a university press dedicated to the dissemination of knowledge. Our authors are leaders in their fields, and our books are widely read and highly respected. We publish in a wide range of disciplines, including the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. We are looking for someone who is passionate about books and the publishing industry. Interested in learning more? Please apply by emailing Celeste Cruz-Carandang (cacarandang@uchicago.edu) for job posting (#73000) Apply by Dec. 2nd

PATHS Virtual Trek: Career Insights - Careers in Humanities

Remember to Submit to the PATHS Newsletter

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.
970 E 58th Street