Dear incoming student,

As the Vice Provost/Vice President for Campus Life, I am delighted to welcome you to the Duke community as you begin your graduate studies. My colleagues in the Division of Student Affairs are eager to support your experience on campus in many ways, and we look forward to meeting you and helping you thrive during your time in Durham.

I write today to inform you of Duke’s policies around sexual misconduct and harassment, and to remind you of the mandatory requirement that all incoming graduate and professional school students complete a two-part online course around sexual misconduct prevention, policies and resources.

Duke Sexual Assault Prevention for Graduate Students

prohibits sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual violence, relationship violence and stalking committed by students. Duke’s Harassment Policy and Procedures prohibit sexual misconduct by faculty, staff and third parties. Please take time to review these policies carefully. As mentioned above, the University also requires all new graduate and professional students to complete Sexual Assault Prevention for Graduate Students, an online course used on over 500 campuses nationwide. The course provides further information about sexual misconduct, the importance of consent and policy, and support resources available to you throughout your time on campus.

Graduate and professional students must complete the majority of the course online before arriving on campus. Approximately 45 days after passing Part One of the course exam, students are required to complete the brief Part Two and a follow-up survey. PLEASE NOTE ALL SURVEY RESPONSES ARE STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL. The University will only receive aggregate information about the student body as a whole and will never see individual responses.

If you would like further information around sexual misconduct prevention and support resources at Duke, or if you have any concerns about this matter, please contact the Women’s Center at SAPGrad@duke.edu.

Thank you for your attention to this important topic. We are committed to providing a safe and healthy living and learning environment here at Duke and we look forward to welcoming you to campus soon.

Sincerely yours,

Mary Pat McMahon
Vice Provost/Vice President of Campus Life

BELOW ARE INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETION

For Sexual Assault Prevention for Graduate Students

Incoming graduate and professional school students complete a two-part course online around sexual misconduct prevention, policies and resources. An online course is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The course consists of Modules 1-6. Please note that the modules will take approximately one hour to complete so plan your time accordingly.

One of the modules must be completed before arriving on campus. You will receive an email asking you to complete the modules.

Please mark the Women’s Center website as a source of gender violence prevention information throughout the year.

Please note that each student must complete Part Two, “DEADLINE TO COMPLETE PART TWO – OCTOBER 25, 2019”

You will register for the module. Once you have registered, you may complete Part One of the course exam.

Log in as a Returning User and enter your Duke e-mail address and password you used when you first logged into the course.

You will be asked to provide your Duke username and password in order to register for the module. Once you have registered, you may complete Part One of the module. Please note that the module will take approximately one hour to complete so plan your time accordingly.

IT IS REQUIRED that each student complete an online module.

You will receive an email asking you to complete the modules.

Part Two - If you haven’t already, bookmark the Women’s Center website as a source of gender violence prevention information throughout the year.
