Weekend.

Experience the beauty of springtime in Northern Virginia at this smaller, spring version of Mason's fall Family Fling.
March 31, 2023 | 10 a.m. thru April 2, 2023 | 4 p.m. | Northern Virginia

Anti-Racism and Inclusive Teaching: An Introduction to Developing More Inclusive Educational Spaces

Call for Papers: 2023 Annual Modeling and Simulation Conference participants.

quantum is, why it is important for students, and where to find resources to integrate it into the classroom. No relationships as a framework exploring for human-robot affiliation.

Attend a lecture by Dr. Frank Krueger and Kelsey Mitchell about their fascinating research on human-dog

In December, President

Patriot Pantry

available for open year-round and scholarships are awarded on a rolling basis. For further information, contact support BAM/graduate study, and mentoring support through the first year of teaching.

Career in Secondary STEM education.

The scholarship is open to Mason students pursuing a

The application is now open for Mason's

Invite your students to apply to Mason's Noyce Scholarship

Virginia Clean Economy Act.

Virginia Climate Center is shedding a

A greener, healthier

Laboratory, a research-based course where students use zebrafish embryos to study the development undergraduate students. One of her biggest research experiences accessible to through the research process while also making also serving as the IPN undergraduate neuroscience assistant

#FacultyFriday highlights

workshop.

racism. Can't join us Tuesday, February 7? Consider attending the opportunities to engage in authentic and compassionate communication to exchange multiple

Participants will develop skills for communication and interaction across cultures and expand

Dr. Ferah Munshi

Mason astrophysicist part of multidisciplinary team to test self-

Mason science community?

What are the benefits of joining a student group at Mason?

2.

online

on

SciTech: check the box in first floor IABR

If you are still on campus or throughout the month of January, you can take donations to the

#PatriotPantryChallenge

If you would like to make an online donation, please visit https://www.patriotpantry.gmu.edu/

To make this decision, some people consider the success of a university based on the success of their explore their professional future?

This is the time of year when many thousands of students and their families are deciding whether and

Learn from leaders

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.