February 17, 2021

DHS COE Centers of Excellence Summit 2021

This email was sent to you.

4400 University Drive

Manage

News

Distinguished Speaker Series

Working with the DHS to advance Homeland Security

Margaret E. Curtis (Bill) Jenkins

University of Texas at Austin

Distinguished Speaker Series

Wednesday, April 14: Fighting Illicit Trade in the Forms of Trademark Counterfeiting and Copyright Piracy

Dr. Jodi Quas

Professor in the Department of Criminology, Law and Society at George Mason University

Distinguished Speaker Series

Wednesday, March 17: Cryptocurrencies - The Future of Financial Crimes

Dr. Dolliver

Director-General, Transnational Alliance to Combat Financial and High-Risk Crime

The team is collecting and analyzing court cases, assessing federal law enforcement needs, interviewing trafficking victims.

Friday, May 21: International Money Laundering and Financial Crimes

Dr. Redlich

Director, Center for Innovation, National Defense University

Join us on Tuesday, May 18th from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. EST for the Distinguished Speaker Series featuring Dr. Redlich, who will discuss the history and context of money laundering in the United States.

Friday, May 21: International Money Laundering and Financial Crimes

Dr. Redlich

Director, Center for Innovation, National Defense University

Join us on Tuesday, May 18th from 12:00 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. EST for the Distinguished Speaker Series featuring Dr. Redlich, who will discuss the history and context of money laundering in the United States.

April 1 2021 – May 31, 2021

Research

Learn how to submit a proposal to participate in our new program, Open Call for Proposals, which runs from April 1, 2021 to May 31, 2021.

The program aims to enhance Homeland Security and technology solutions by fostering new ideas and supporting research initiatives. The centers of excellence are seeking innovative proposals that address critical challenges in the fields of science, technology, and policy.

June 2020 – June 2021

Research

The RFP open period (June 2020 – June 2021).

Research ideas intended to address questions and challenges that are expected to be facing in the near future. This rolling RFP provides funding opportunities and supports research that aligns with the mission of the centers of excellence.

While data on this clandestine activity has previously been scarce, there is mounting evidence that suggests a growing trend. From smuggling, counterfeiting and tax evasion, to the trafficking of drugs, illegal goods, and human beings, the problem poses a significant threat to national security. It requires a multi-dimensional approach, involving law enforcement agencies, international partners, and law enforcement agencies.

For law enforcement agencies handling cryptocurrencies, Dr. Dolliver will discuss how cryptocurrencies can be obtained and the challenges they face in pursuing these criminals. She will also cover the methods criminals take to obfuscate their digital forensic evidence. Dr. Dolliver will also discuss the methods criminals take to obfuscate their digital forensic evidence. Dr. Dolliver will also discuss the methods criminals take to obfuscate their digital forensic evidence. Dr. Dolliver will also discuss the methods criminals take to obfuscate their digital forensic evidence.

Wednesday, February 3, 2021

Tune in on Wednesday, March 17 from 12:00 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. EST and learn how the pandemic has affected the economy, security, and transnational organized crime. Dr. Redlich will discuss the impact of COVID-19 on the economy, security, and transnational organized crime in the Americas.

The seminar will feature a panel of experts from the Department of Homeland Security, Federal Bureau of Investigation, and other relevant organizations. The panel will discuss the challenges faced by DHS stakeholders and industry partners to present current and emerging solutions to threats.

Please note that this seminar is hosted by CINA and is broadcast online. The registration is now open, and we encourage you to reserve your spot to attend this informative event.

The team is collecting and analyzing court cases, assessing federal law enforcement needs, interviewing trafficking victims.

If you have any questions, please contact cina@gmu.edu.

Find out more about the university's research public/private partnerships for enhanced Homeland security.

Internship Opportunities

L

Subscribe