The University Chaplaincy is a dynamic hub supporting religious, spiritual, ethical, and cultural life for all members of the community. Our chaplains and advisors are here for you, no matter where you are in the world or how you are doing in this time. Wherever you are, I wish you connection to whatever brings you hope in this season.

Advent captures this anticipation of hope in the improbable and the unknown. We would expect for the Messiah, the savior, the Prince of Peace. The story flips the script, bringing light into the darkness and joy into the muck and mire. The Trans Resistance Virtual Gallery showcases art that speaks to this story of radical hope.

Tufts chaplains from the Christian tradition have partnered to create an Advent Devotional for this year. These devotionals will focus on the Holy Spirit's working in our lives. We will dive into scripture, gaze upon art, write letters, and expand our understanding of what is prayer. All are welcome to join us.

Please email Catholic Chaplain Azmera Hammouri-Davis, Africana Spirituality Advisor at Azmera.Hammouri-Davis@tufts.edu to set up a time to discuss the devotional. The internship would take place between June 12th to August 6th, 2021. The internship would be part-time, with 10-15 hours per week during the internship. Interns will receive a stipend of $2,000 and will be expected to write 2-3 short writing assignments per week during the internship. There are now five South Asians elected to Congress and an ever-growing number of South Asians in the workforce. Apply to the Washington Leadership Program to learn more.

Creating Our Future: Ritual, Race and Religion in America is an annual program recognizing and reflecting around the coming winter solstice. We'll lift up readings and music from the African American perspective and explore what it means to gather together in person right now, Christ is still present among us and the Spirit draws us together as God's people. After the sermon, we'll reflect more deeply on the biblical texts throughout this holy season. Please email Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell with any questions and find the Zoom link on our Hillel website.

The Breakfast Club: Faculty/Staff Bible Study and Prayer Group will be led by Tufts' Protestant Chaplain, the Reverend Dan Bell. We gather every Wednesday morning over breakfast and after we discuss the Bible we meet over Zoom to discuss the Sunday sermon, and reflection over Zoom. While we cannot be together in person right now, Christ is still present among us and the Spirit draws us together as God's people. After the sermon, we'll reflect more deeply on the biblical texts throughout this holy season. Please email Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell with any questions and find the Zoom link on our Hillel website.

Join us as we gather mid-week to experiment with spiritual practices from various spiritual traditions led by Tufts' Religious Life Directors. These sessions are for Tufts community members to find support, community, and deeper understanding of these spiritual practices. All are welcome and as always, come as you are.
