COVID-19 pandemic, the theme for the meeting include: 1) health and medicine; 2) mobility; 3) sustainable development.

This global virtual conference turns to world history to tell the story of global humanity and globalization. It will also address the long-term consequences of ongoing debt and inequality.

This event is part of a series of webinars “Financing the 2030 Agenda in a vulnerable world”, which aim to leverage the power of innovation and finance to address the world’s challenges.

The Global Innovation Fund (GIF) comrades with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the National Geographic Society and Microsoft’s AI for Earth Program to fund projects that address the needs of fishing communities, optimize economic benefits by building and maintaining sustainable fisheries,

The Civic Innovation Challenge (CIVIC) seeks to invest in social innovations that aim to improve the lives of those living in vulnerable communities, optimize economic benefits by building and maintaining sustainable fisheries, and ultimately manage Earth’s natural resources for a more sustainable future.

The ERASE-PFAS project, co-led by Colorado State University and funded by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), aims to improve and protect public and environmental health. The objective of the ERASE-PFAS project is to support research on the prevention, minimization, mitigation, and/or remediation of environmental pollution to protect human and ecological health.

The Research Development Services (RDS) at the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) is currently seeking proposals for the Research Support for FDA’s Youth Tobacco Education, which focuses on understanding the mechanisms of drug addiction and developing effective interventions to prevent youth from initiating tobacco use.

The Office of Naval Research (ONR) is currently seeking proposals for the Early Career Grant, which supports early-career scientists and engineers with the potential to make significant advances in the fields of materials science and engineering.

The American Geophysical Union (AGU) is currently seeking proposals for the REDEFINE project, which focuses on improving the end-to-end process of accessing, integrating and transforming research data, and expanding the scientific publishing landscape.

The National Science Foundation (NSF) is currently seeking proposals for the NGS grants, which support research in the fields of oceanography, atmospheric science, and environmental engineering.

The World Sustainability Forum (WSF) is currently seeking proposals for the CoPe Working Group, which focuses on addressing the challenges and opportunities of our time, such as climate change, sustainability, and global health.

The Mason Online Pandemic Modeling Forum to be held weekly on Fridays throughout the summer, focusing on disease transfer and corruption—Connections.