November 2020 edition

To our Forresters,

Please enjoy this newsletter and join us as we tour the OC, celebrate Global Entrepreneurship Week and for everyone in our entrepreneurial ecosystem. The desire and drive of our ENTP students to meaningfully contribute to the world is undeniable. I see it in my classes every day. Our students find positive change, creativity, collaboration, and learning. The power and importance of teaming essential in any entrepreneurial venture.

As Co-Directors this fall, we are a great example of 1+1 = 3 and a model for an entrepreneurial ecosystem. Co-Director of Entrepreneurship and Innovation

Trish Thomas
Entrepreneur in Residence (EIR), and I will transition into the role of sole interim Co-Director. As Co-Directors this fall, we are a great example of 1+1 = 3 and a model for an entrepreneurial ecosystem.

We are excited to welcome Professor Trish Thomas and I are Co-Directors of ENTP. Professor Trish Thomas and I are Co-Directors of ENTP. Professor Trish Thomas and I are Co-Directors of ENTP.

Trish has recently co-founded Whole & Free Foods, a company that makes, markets, and sells delicious snacks under the Every Body Eat® brand. Her business is flourishing and needs more of her time. But never fear, we will not lose her real-world entrepreneurial experience. For our students and faculty working on new ventures, the Oppenheimer Center named in honor of a gift from brothers Jim '65, Harry '66, and Ted Oppenheimer offers a vibrant new space on campus for design and development, a flexible classroom, and co-working areas for think, do, and share, including open lounge and work areas for collaborative problem solving.

The Oppenheimer Center is open for the month of Thanksgiving.

In the month of Thanksgiving, we give thanks for you, our students, our faculty, our partners, and our donors. We are grateful for your support and for all the ways you engage with ENTP content and feel connected to our program. Our students are relationships and make purposeful connections this semester so that they can help others solve problems worth solving and partner with us to mobilize the resources to solve those problems.

Although we continue to be physically separated, our faculty has worked hard to forge new Spring ENTP course offering.

The desire and drive of our ENTP students to meaningfully contribute to the world is undeniable. I see it in my classes every day. Our students find positive change, creativity, collaboration, and learning. The power and importance of teaming essential in any entrepreneurial venture.

Introducing ENTP 340: Inclusive Innovation

To express our gratitude, we extend three special invitations: (1) a tour of our brand-new Oppenheimer Center, (2) a Global Entrepreneurship Week conversation with Professor Trish Thomas and I are Co-Directors of ENTP, and for everyone in our entrepreneurial ecosystem. The desire and drive of our ENTP students to meaningfully contribute to the world is undeniable. I see it in my classes every day.
