Dear ENTP Community,

In the month of Thanksgiving, we give thanks for you, our students, our faculty, our donors, our employers, and our families. We are grateful for your perseverance and determination in a year unlike any other. Although we continue to be physically separated, our faculty has worked hard to forge relationships and make purposeful connections this semester so that students can engage with ENTP content and feel connected to our program. Our students are smart, creative, disruptive women who are using social media to make an impact.

Kate Jackson
Co-Director of Entrepreneurship and Innovation

Even virtually, the ENTP program continues to be an immersive, engaging, and dynamic place to make meaningful connections and play a role in shaping the future. We are excited to welcome our new students this fall and to continue to be inspired by and learning from the insights they bring into their studies.

The desire and drive of our ENTP students to meaningfully contribute to the world is always at the heart of everything we do in ENTP. We are proud of the student projects, start-ups, and business ventures that are emerging from our students, and we are looking forward to witnessing the impact they will make in the years to come.

Please enjoy this newsletter and join us as we tour the OC, celebrate Global Entrepreneurship Week, and launch inclusive innovation.

You may have noticed some changes in ENTP. To express our gratitude, we extend three special invitations: (1) a tour of our brand-new Oppenheimer Center, and for everyone in our entrepreneurial ecosystem; (2) a Global Entrepreneurship Week conversation with former The Oprah Show producer/writer and three-time Emmy winner and entrepreneur Lisa Weiss, and (3) an introduction to our new EnTP 340: Inclusive Innovation course for our Foresters.
