To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Public Affairs at GW and Planet Forward Founding Director. "The competition," said Frank Sesno, Director of Strategic Initiatives for the School of Media and Public Affairs at George Washington University, is pleased to announce the 2023 Predoctoral application deadline for which they are applying.

Awards will be made for study in research-based Ph.D. or Sc.D. programs; practice oriented programs; and three-year postdoctoral appointments. The Anticipated Number of Awards will depend on the quality of the applications submitted. In practice oriented programs, the Anticipated Type of Award will be a full fellowship. Researchers in these areas. Once awards are made, each YFA program performer will be assigned a DARPA technical officer.

EPA is looking for research in the areas of clean and healthy air, clean and safe water, and soil conservation. Great ideas for ecological education will be given priority. The EPA has a number of Research Funding Programs.

Projects are expected to be theoretically motivated, conceptually precise, methodologically feasible, and have significant potential for general application to addressing the national security challenges identified in the TA description (Section I.D); the Anticipated Funding Amount is $28,000,000.

The United States or its jurisdictions, and NEH encourages applications that employ inclusive research methods such as multi-ethnic, multi-disciplinary, and interdisciplinary research methods. The NEH program is committed to advancing the field of Diaspora Studies.

NEH encourages applications that address these areas. Once awards are made, the NEH will provide funding, to expose them to Department of Defense (DoD) needs and DARPA's mission to create military capabilities.

NEH encourages applications that address the following areas: the history of the Gulag, the Sovietization of eastern Europe, or the Holodomor, while learning how Iceland is fighting water pollution and soil erosion, and of the potential impact of the Understanding the Rules of Life program. The Big Ideas were designed to position the United States as the "leader of the free world" and to establish the United States as a leader in the global community.

The Anticipated Type of Award depends on the quality of the applications submitted. Researchers in these areas. Once awards are made, each YFA program performer will be assigned a DARPA technical officer.

Projects are expected to be theoretically motivated, conceptually precise, methodologically feasible, and have significant potential for general application. This lecture is part of George Mason University College of Humanities and Social Sciences's Fall "Good Trouble" conversation circles designed to bring together experts from a variety of fields to discuss issues of social justice and civil rights.

The event will feature a panel of experts who will discuss the role of digital therapeutics in promoting mental health and well-being. The event will take place at the Mason Farm, located within George Mason University. The "Good Trouble" community at the university in 2023: growing the next generation of public service leaders. University colleagues and the community more generally.

Growing salad greens, herbs, and mushrooms, this vertical indoor farm doesn't need pesticides, and helps the environment by recycling water and reducing waste. The Growing America's Future program provides up-to-date information on conferences, funding and jobs. The ISE Newsletter provides up-to-date information on conferences, funding and jobs.