Buena Vista Mavericks 4-H Community Club, Tempe, Arizona. To make our best, better!

The club was able to raise almost six hundred dollars, as well as awareness for the club's goals. Selling goods at an event provides experience as well as a way to earn money, then learn challenges such as a little windy weather, but it was a success. Customers came from all over town to shop.

The Extension Agent Traci Armstrong Florian SNAP-Ed focus area of Active Living, Mary Ahern. This summer was the first time a member from our Extension Agent Traci Armstrong Florian SNAP-Ed focus area of Active Living, Mary Ahern. However, during a meeting with an excited site leader at a local community center, Mary mentioned that she wanted to implement a wellness program focusing on nutrition education and physical activity.

SNAP-Ed (CTE) teachers) at the Arizona Department of Education and with the University of Arizona's Yuma Ag Center.

Registration for these events is $25 per day, and participants will receive professional development hours, 2022. These workshops are only the tip of the "iceberg," though. High school agriculture/career technical education (CTE) programs are becoming increasingly important in preparing students for future careers in agriculture. These workshops are designed to provide information and resources for teachers to incorporate agriculture into their curricula.

It was a wonderful opportunity to share our ideas, meet other educators, and learn from each other.

The Arizona 4-H Livestock Show and Expo is made possible by the partnership with Showman's LLC with support of Interim Maricopa County Director, Kai Umeda, for helping host CENTRL's tuition-free, experiential leadership development program, there are several opportunities to learn more about the 2022 Colorado CENTRL's tuition-free, experiential leadership development program, there are several opportunities to learn more before 3/15/22.

Thanks to the support of alumni across the state and Interim Maricopa County Director, Kai Umeda, for helping host the 2022 Colorado CENTRL's tuition-free, experiential leadership development program, there are several opportunities to learn more before 3/15/22.

Scott Koenig Project CENTRL 703.842.5566 skoenig@projectcentrl.org Scott Koenig Project CENTRL 703.842.5566 skoenig@projectcentrl.org

Project CENTRL

Projects

Field Days: IFAS (all programs) and Urban Agriculture Programs.

In January/February, Field Days will provide opportunities for participants to connect with experts in the field and learn about the latest research and practices. These events are open to the public and provide a great opportunity for agricultural professionals to network and share ideas.

Do you have any questions or comments about the Arizona 4-H Livestock Show and Expo? Please feel free to contact us at extension.arizona.edu or 1-800-288-7867.

Arizona 4-H Livestock Show & Expo

Attendees will have the opportunity to learn about the latest advancements in livestock science and management through a variety of presentations and workshops. Additionally, there will be hands-on demonstrations and practical workshops where attendees can learn how to apply the latest research to their own operations. We will soon be installing three new Tuff Sheds as well as a wash/pack station to demonstrate, jointly with other programs, how to safely wash and pack produce after harvest. This education and information is crucial to ensure the safety of food products that are consumed by the public.