TOWN GUIDES

My favorite holiday is almost upon us, and although my family doesn't allow much wiggle room in the menu (my husband's challah chestnut stuffing is always the favorite, see below), it's nice to have something new on the table. This year we reached out to some local and rather famous chefs for their favorite dishes for inspiration. And besides all the shopping, cooking, and cleaning, this year I'm planning to focus a bit more on all I'm grateful for. Including you, dear readers, for reading and sharing the list.

Challah Chestnut Stuffing

My husband's excellent stuffing.
Even better for breakfast with leftover gravy.

Make Way for The Curly Hair Salon, Branford

The Curly Hair Salon by Luvena Leslie's second location has moved into the downtown Branford area earlier this year to better serve the Connecticut shoreline. What sets them apart from the numerous salons in their area is the exclusivity of only catering to wavy, curly and coily textures. That means no heat from curling, flat irons, or blow dryers to straighten or curl your hair. Their goal is to help you fall in love with the hair you have. With 10 years of experience under Luvena's belt she knows her way around a curl no matter the texture. As the demand for curly hair stylists grows so has her team, to a total of 3 additional DevaCurl certified stylists and 3 others in training or assisting. They strive to keep the salon's culture friendly, upbeat and fun to foster a positive curly community within the beauty industry.
