LEADERSHIP FOR CHANGE IN AN UNCERTAIN WORLD

From the Office of National & International Fellowship (ONIF)

Fulbright is an opportunity for all Americans, regardless of age, gender, race, religion, disciplinary and major, to engage in educational exchange programs around the world. It is one of the most prestigious awards in the nation’s history. Fulbright is a competitive, merit-based program offering opportunities to work in the following areas:

- Research
- Teaching
- Workshops and Seminars
- Public Lectures and Conferences
- Consultations
- Individual Project Work
- Professional Traineeships
- Research Assistantships
- Creative Projects
- Art Ensembles
- Research Assistantships
- Press Attachés
- Internships
- Fulbright English Teaching Assistants (ETA)
- Fulbright Specialists

Students may sign up to take classes and study abroad, or pursue an internship or research project in another country. Fulbright students are offered a wide range of career goals. We will also discuss how to craft a competitive application package and LMU’s campus process.

Fulbright is the leading program of international interchange for the teaching of American culture around the world. The Fulbright Program is open to all U.S. citizens who have completed a bachelor’s degree and are pursuing further education at the master’s or doctoral level, or are engaged in professional development. We welcome applications for the Fulbright English Teaching Assistants (ETA) Program from students who have completed a bachelor’s degree and have prior teaching experience. ETA recipients work in schools in over 140 countries, teaching English and leading cultural programs. ETA placements are not guaranteed, and all ETA placements are subject to availability of funds. ETA placements are highly competitive and are subject to final determination by the U.S. Department of State. ETA placements for the 2022-23 academic year will be announced on or before April 8, 2022. Please visit the U.S. Department of State’s ETA Program website for more information.

LMU Global Internship Program

APPLICATION DEADLINE: MARCH 1, 2022

Apply early and secure your spot before the program begins! LMU Global Internship Program is open to all degree-seeking undergraduate and graduate students from LMU and other U.S. colleges and universities. A wide range of companies, government agencies, and other organizations in over 75 countries partner with LMU to offer the internship opportunities listed below.

LMU students receive global career development training and complete two business consulting projects for companies based in Africa, Asia, Europe, or the Americas. Students learn about diverse cultures, gain international business experience, meet local business leaders, and advance cross-cultural skills. Interns also have the opportunity to explore full-time career opportunities with their host organizations.

LMU students who complete an internship with a U.S. company or organization maintain LMU academic credit. LMU international internships do not count toward LMU academic credit, but fulfill the University’s requirement for global experience.
