Faculty Spotlight: Kate M. Chaffin

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate completed her MSSW degree here at UT in 2004, and then worked as a forensic social worker in the court system until 2008. In that year the College of Social Work hired her to launch their new online MSSW program, which was among the very earliest such programs in the region. As she puts it, “This was one of the best career decisions that I have ever made. I love my UTK family and I am completely invested in making UTK a welcoming environment for faculty, staff, and students.”

Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Doctor of Social Work (DSW) program that focused on teaching and learning. She has actively pursued innovative teaching methods that can better serve nontraditional students who have had experiences similar to hers. Her teaching philosophy has therefore focused on finding inclusive approaches: “The central tenets of how I teach are to assume the best, allow grace and room for growth, and strive to incorporate a diversity of learning styles into each course.”
