Faculty Spotlight: Kate M. Chaffin

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of the Online Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate entered the University of Tennessee in 2004, and then worked as a forensic APSW in Mississippi for the following two years. In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.

In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.

October 2021

Faculty Volume

Letter from the Provost in the Division of Faculty Affairs, invites proposals for its 2022 Innovative Teaching & Learning Conference Call for Proposals:

"Transforming the World through Innovative Teaching and Learning" Teaching and Learning Innovation (TLI), a unit of the Office of the Provost in the Division of Faculty Affairs, invites proposals for its 2022 Innovative Teaching & Learning Conference. The theme for this year's conference is "Transforming the World through Innovative Teaching and Learning." The conference will be held virtually on Tuesday, March 29, 2022. Proposals are now being accepted for a variety of session formats, including workshops, panel discussions, and poster sessions. For more information, please contact tli@utk.edu. Deadline Extended to December 3

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of the Online Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate entered the University of Tennessee in 2004, and then worked as a forensic APSW in Mississippi for the following two years. In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.

Faculty Volume

November 2021

Faculty Spotlight: Kate M. Chaffin

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of the Online Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate entered the University of Tennessee in 2004, and then worked as a forensic APSW in Mississippi for the following two years. In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.

Faculty Volume

November 2021

Faculty Spotlight: Kate M. Chaffin

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of the Online Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate entered the University of Tennessee in 2004, and then worked as a forensic APSW in Mississippi for the following two years. In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.

Faculty Volume

November 2021

Faculty Spotlight: Kate M. Chaffin

Kate M. Chaffin, MSSW, LAPSW, is Director of the Online MSSW Program and Professor of the Online Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate entered the University of Tennessee in 2004, and then worked as a forensic APSW in Mississippi for the following two years. In that year the College of Social Work hired Kate as an Assistant Professor of Practice with the College of Social Work. Kate also continued her education, pursuing a doctoral degree in a Division of Teaching and Learning (D2L) program focused on teaching and learning. Her Doctoral degree is finished, however, her dedication to the University and her students is a continuous journey.