The TCMS Physician Wellness Program presents

Break the Silence: Physician Suicide

A Virtual CME Wellness Course

Physicians have easy ways to commit suicide and the knowledge to carry it out successfully. Every year 300 to 400 physicians take their own lives, resulting in loss to patients, families, and the medical community.

This course explains risk factors and warning signs in potentially suicidal physicians. With this knowledge, you could save a colleague's life, or maybe even your own.

Tuesday, December 9, 2025 | 12:00 - 1:00 PM

Virtual - Zoom

Speaker: Cheryl Hurd, MD

Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, participants should be able to:

1. Cite the number of physicians lost to suicide annually.
2. Describe the characteristics of major depressive disorder.
3. Identify risk factors for physician suicide.
4. Explain the warning signs of a physician who is suicidal.
5. Recognize the ethical consequences of physician suicide.
