April 2025

Dear Colleague,

We're delighted to share our first combined Europe-Asia newsletter from Emerging Destinations. The image of Istanbul's bridge connecting Europe and Asia feels like the perfect metaphor for bringing these two wonderful regions together in one publication.

Our other exciting news this month is welcoming Walkers Tours (Signature preferred!) and their bespoke-focused sister company ArTravele. The additions expand our portfolio into beautiful Sri Lanka. Please see the announcement below for all the details.

The Emerging Destinations team has been busy exploring the world for you. Jenna is currently vacationing in Turkey and Malta, while Ana recently returned from a familiarization trip to Malta with MiGlobal (formerly MiMalta). Ana followed that up by leading another group through snowy Trentino, Italy for their tourism board. And while not in Europe or Asia, Paula is currently leading a fam with Atua Enkop Camps in Kenya.

I'm taking things a bit easier after having partial knee replacement surgery last month. I'm happy to report that recovery is going well—I'm already walking around, though my knee remains a bit swollen. My newly retired husband has been a wonderful caretaker through it all.

We hope you enjoy reading this edition of our newsletter and find inspiration for your next adventure.

Warmly, the Emerging Destinations Team

Jane, Ana, Jenna & Paula

Walkers is committed to a sustainable and responsible future for Sri Lankan tourism. As proud partners of Travelife, they endeavor to uphold the highest standards of environmental stewardship and social responsibility. Why Visit Malta? It's the Little Things

It's the little things, the hidden treasures, that make Malta an awesome one-of-a-kind in the Mediterranean.

That group of old-timers in the sleepy village square, offering you directions to that hidden beach you heard about.

The little, sunny flowers that peek out from between ancient megalithic rocks.

Gulet Cruising the Turquoise Coast

What's a gulet? A traditional Turkish wooden sailboat. Similar to a schooner, they are normally two masted and somewhere between 45 to 100 feet long.

More importantly, they're the coolest way to explore the fabulous Turquoise Coast, that big bend in southwest Türkiye that includes parts of the Aegean and the open Mediterranean.
