The University Chaplaincy is a dynamic hub supporting religious, spiritual, ethical, and cultural life for all members of the Tufts community. Chaplains have contributed to the program offering a diverse array of spiritual practices, including nature walks, meditations, and small group series based on "Rooting out Racism," a pray-at-your-own-pace online retreat consisting of streaming audio reflections and prayer prompts. It invites white Christians to search their souls, understand how Christianity has contributed to the oppression of people of color, and engage in practices that can help create an environment where all are welcome.

The University Chaplaincy offers services to members of the community, including individual and small group counseling, support groups, and workshops on topics such as mindfulness and leadership. The chaplaincy also sponsors events such as Noonday Prayer and Check-In with Protestant Chaplain Dan Bell and Protestant Evening Worship (PEW) on Tufts campus. These events provide opportunities for students and faculty to gather for worship and reflection in a variety of settings.

Please note: Ask a Counselor is not meant for students who are in crisis or are having active thoughts of self-harm. For those in crisis, please contact the Tufts Counseling and Mental Health Services at 617-627-5050 or visit the website for more information.
