A NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To: [Name]

As you may know, the first week of February is Mardi Gras. Did you know that LSU is famous for hosting one of the largest Mardi Gras parades in the United States? The Tiger Bowl is the largest Mardi Gras parade in the world. LSU families, friends, and fans come from all over the world to enjoy the festivities and support our Tigers! This year, we are excited to announce the extension of the tradition to include the LSU Women’s Basketball vs. Ole Miss game on the Saturday before Mardi Gras! The Tiger Bowl is expected to draw an estimated crowd of 100,000 fans, making it one of the biggest events of the year.

Mardi Gras in the world, but there are many smaller but equally enjoyable celebrations in the Cajun cities and villages across modern-day Louisiana. During this time, even if they're born and raised here. Have you tried a home-cooked meal to sbaer@lsu.edu, and they may see it on the menu in the dining halls on SUPERFOOD Tuesdays for special menus created with dark chocolate!

While you're celebrating Mardi Gras, don't forget to consider some tips on helping your Tiger navigate Mardi Gras safely while maximizing their experience.
