A message from the Dean

FERNANDO R. MIRALLES-WILHELM

Not throwin' away my shot

by Fernando Miralles-Wilhelm

About a week ago, George Mason University President Gregory Washington sent an email to all Mason faculty and staff to let us know our university would be offering an opportunity to receive a COVID-19 vaccine starting last Saturday, April 10 at the Eagle Bank Arena. Students could have the same option later this month. Within a week, a myriad of volunteers and healthcare professionals offered hundreds of appointments for our Mason nation for all interested. We are fortunate to have this opportunity as an option as there are more than 120 million Americans still waiting for their first shot.

A few days ago, I personally received my second COVID-19 vaccination. Based on my classification within the CDC vaccination roll out, living in Maryland, I was provided the opportunity last month, just as the case and death counts were starting to drop, and, to quote the popular Broadway musical, Hamilton, "I'm not throwing away my shot" to fight this pandemic.
