I can reach out to other first-year students or the Tufts community. We provide pastoral care, support religious and philosophical communities, educate about traditional festivals, and expose students to the joys of spiritual and religious traditions.

Eighth Day (Shmini 'Atzeret) is considered both the end of Sukkot and a distinct festival. The name refers to the booths (sukkot) used by Israelites during desert wanderings and constructed in the fields during the Autumnal equinox and the second harvest festival, celebrating the equivalence of light and dark, the arrival of the new year, and the coming of the new moon.

Mabon is characterized by repentance, fasting, and forgiveness. Begins at sundown.

Yom Kippur is the holiest and most solemn of all days in the Jewish year. It is committed by deed, word or thought.

Das Laxana Festival is a 10-day festival that is considered to be a holy convocation. (The Paryusana Festival of Jain Digumbar Sect): A 10-day festival that is considered to be a holy convocation.

Tradition: Zoroastrianism

Day of Paryusana is the most solemn occasion of forgiveness and the examination of one's own thoughts and behavior. It is the day when past sins are confessed, and the Paryushana assembly is convened. It is a time of reflection, repentance, and forgiveness.

Tradition: Judaism

Rosh Hashanah is the Jewish New Year, a time for reflection, forgiveness, and repentance. The Day of Awe begins the ten days during which God examines the world and the actions of its inhabitants. The conclusion of the Ten Days of Awe, Yom Kippur is the holiest and most solemn of all days in the Jewish year. It is a day of fasting, prayer, and introspection. The High Holy Days are a series of religious observances that include Yom Kippur and Rosh Hashanah.

Tradition: Wicca/Paganism

Mabon is a harvest festival celebrated in honor of the Autumnal Equinox and the second harvest festival, celebrating the equivalence of light and dark, the arrival of the new year, and the coming of the new moon.

Tradition: Jainism

Das Laxana Festival is a 10-day festival that is considered to be a holy convocation. (The Paryusana Festival of Jain Digumbar Sect): A 10-day festival that is considered to be a holy convocation.

Tradition: Zoroastrianism

Day of Paryusana is the most solemn occasion of forgiveness and the examination of one's own thoughts and behavior. It is the day when past sins are confessed, and the Paryushana assembly is convened. It is a time of reflection, repentance, and forgiveness.

Tradition: Judaism

Rosh Hashanah is the Jewish New Year, a time for reflection, forgiveness, and repentance. The Day of Awe begins the ten days during which God examines the world and the actions of its inhabitants. The conclusion of the Ten Days of Awe, Yom Kippur is the holiest and most solemn of all days in the Jewish year. It is a day of fasting, prayer, and introspection. The High Holy Days are a series of religious observances that include Yom Kippur and Rosh Hashanah.