President announces Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence Task Force
By Anna Stolley Persky

Kimberly Hamilton, Dan Taggart, Kerin Hiker-Balkissoon, Tamyra Washington, and Kerin Hiker-Balkissoon...announced his Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence Task Force, a major university-wide initiative with committees that include nearly 100 people representing all of Mason's schools, colleges, and units. Thank you to President Gregory Washington for his leadership in creating this task force.

Science and policy collide during the Pandemic
By Felipe de Alba

Establishing and strengthening connections across Mason's science community is more important than ever. Building meaningful connections - while you gain your feet - may mean virtual events. Mason President Washington and Dean Miralles-Wilhelm invite you to meet our science community online. On September 15th at 8pm, we will hear the panel with Mason President Washington and Dean Miralles-Wilhelm. On September 16th, we will attend the conference. Who will you meet?
