In the Issue

MASON SCIENCE COMMUNITY

President announces Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence Task Force
By John Hollis
Mason President Gregory Washington has announced his Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence (ARIE) Task Force, a major university-wide initiative with committees that include nearly 100 people representing all of Mason's schools, colleges, and units. Thank you to the points of contact listed here who coordinated this event for their work.

Events

Kelly Knight, Karen Akerlof, and Tamyra Washington, and Kerin Hiker-Balkissoon. And also I extend my sincere appreciation to the ScienceConnect administrative working group who planned and executed the event.

Stay Connected

Subscribe to our email list.

Message from the Dean

Finally Friday - Thank you to our department chairs
By Aikwan Chong

In the course of the afternoon, attendees met with more than 60 of our faculty and staff in the breakout rooms who graciously committed their time to share information about our many programs, research opportunities, and resources to support each other.

Inside Science (Our Universe): Stellar Astronomy The Fall Colors of Stars

Wednesday, September 16 | 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Tuesday, September 15 | 8 p.m.
Friday, September 4, 2020 | 10 to 11 a.m.

CMAI: Modeling and Simulation of Viral Propagation in the Built Environment

Today’s ScienceConnect event gave me and the 500-plus registrants the opportunity to meet many of our faculty, staff and students. We kicked off the fourth annual and first-time virtual event by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm or attend the entire event at no charge by using the Zoom link below.

Environmental Science and Policy

College of Science is launching an Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence (ARIE) Task Force. Mason President Gregory Washington has announced the task force, a major university-wide initiative with committees that include nearly 100 people representing all of Mason’s schools, colleges, and units.

Science and policy collide during the Pandemic

The Scientist Magazine

We've got your back during these unprecedented times @georgemasonu. Your leadership helped transition students back to campus safely and set them up for success. Here’s to a great and safe semester.

We're also thankful to the presidents and deans of each Mason College for their leadership. Dean of Mathematical Sciences and Statistics, Mark Uhen, and College of Science Dean Fernando Miralles-Wilhelm, thank the staff of the College of Science on the various committees.

In this Issue

Got this as a forward?
Manage
Share this email:

President announces Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence Task Force

Finally Friday - Thank you to our department chairs

Science and policy collide during the Pandemic

Events

IN THE NEWS

by Anna Stolley Persky

I-Achieve Scholarship

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community.

By Anna Stolley Persky

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. Nominated by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm, she is the first female and first student of Albanian heritage to be selected for the scholarship. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community. By Anna Stolley Persky

For tried and tested scientific conclusions to inform that policy.

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community.

By Anna Stolley Persky

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. Nominated by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm, she is the first female and first student of Albanian heritage to be selected for the scholarship. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community. By Anna Stolley Persky

For tried and tested scientific conclusions to inform that policy.

ScienceConnect administrative working group who planned and executed the event.

A huge thank you to the points of contact listed here who coordinated this event for their work.

In the course of the afternoon, attendees met with more than 60 of our faculty, staff in the breakout rooms who graciously committed their time to share information about our many programs, research opportunities, and resources to support each other.

Inside Science (Our Universe): Stellar Astronomy The Fall Colors of Stars

Wednesday, September 16 | 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Tuesday, September 15 | 8 p.m.
Friday, September 4, 2020 | 10 to 11 a.m.

CMAI: Modeling and Simulation of Viral Propagation in the Built Environment

Today’s ScienceConnect event gave me and the 500-plus registrants the opportunity to meet many of our faculty, staff and students. We kicked off the fourth annual and first-time virtual event by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm or attend the entire event at no charge by using the Zoom link below.

Environmental Science and Policy

College of Science is launching an Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence (ARIE) Task Force. Mason President Gregory Washington has announced the task force, a major university-wide initiative with committees that include nearly 100 people representing all of Mason’s schools, colleges, and units.

Science and policy collide during the Pandemic

The Scientist Magazine

We've got your back during these unprecedented times @georgemasonu. Your leadership helped transition students back to campus safely and set them up for success. Here’s to a great and safe semester.

We're also thankful to the presidents and deans of each Mason College for their leadership. Dean of Mathematical Sciences and Statistics, Mark Uhen, and College of Science Dean Fernando Miralles-Wilhelm, thank the staff of the College of Science on the various committees.

In this Issue

Got this as a forward?
Manage
Share this email:

President announces Anti-Racism and Inclusive Excellence Task Force

Finally Friday - Thank you to our department chairs

Science and policy collide during the Pandemic

Events

IN THE NEWS

by Anna Stolley Persky

I-Achieve Scholarship

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community.

By Anna Stolley Persky

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. Nominated by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm, she is the first female and first student of Albanian heritage to be selected for the scholarship. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community. By Anna Stolley Persky

For tried and tested scientific conclusions to inform that policy.

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community.

By Anna Stolley Persky

Elene Lipartiani is among the first to receive the I-Achieve Scholarship in recognition of her academic excellence. Nominated by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm, she is the first female and first student of Albanian heritage to be selected for the scholarship. In this issue, you'll find stories of students like Elene who are increasing the diversity of the Mason community. By Anna Stolley Persky

For tried and tested scientific conclusions to inform that policy.

ScienceConnect administrative working group who planned and executed the event.

A huge thank you to the points of contact listed here who coordinated this event for their work.

In the course of the afternoon, attendees met with more than 60 of our faculty, staff in the breakout rooms who graciously committed their time to share information about our many programs, research opportunities, and resources to support each other.