By Jessica Clark

The Institute for a Sustainable Earth (ISE) seeks applications for the first cohort of Faculty Fellows who are committed to advancing knowledge in their fields.

ISE's Faculty Fellowship supports research in biodiversity or a combination of biodiversity and sustainability. Fellows will be appointed for a two-year term beginning in the fall of 2021. Applications are due by October 16, 2020.

In this 30 day period. For 2020, this 30 day period is:
- September 18, respectively. Also, Columbus Day or Día de la Raza, which is October 12, falls within the month of September. In the United States, this date is also Hispanic Heritage Month, which is set aside to celebrate and honor the contributions of Hispanic Americans in the nation's history.

September 15 is a significant date because it marks the anniversary of the approval of Public Law 100-402, which established National Hispanic Heritage Month. This law was passed by the United States Congress in 1986, and it was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan. Since then, the United States has observed National Hispanic Heritage Month as a way to recognize the contributions and influence of Hispanic Americans to the nation's history, culture, and achievements.

The Institute for a Sustainable Earth (ISE) seeks applications for the first cohort of Faculty Fellows who are committed to advancing knowledge in their fields.

ISE's Faculty Fellowship supports research in biodiversity or a combination of biodiversity and sustainability. Fellows will be appointed for a two-year term beginning in the fall of 2021. Applications are due by October 16, 2020.

In this 30 day period. For 2020, this 30 day period is:
- September 18, respectively. Also, Columbus Day or Día de la Raza, which is October 12, falls within the month of September. In the United States, this date is also Hispanic Heritage Month, which is set aside to celebrate and honor the contributions of Hispanic Americans in the nation's history.

September 15 is a significant date because it marks the anniversary of the approval of Public Law 100-402, which established National Hispanic Heritage Month. This law was passed by the United States Congress in 1986, and it was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan. Since then, the United States has observed National Hispanic Heritage Month as a way to recognize the contributions and influence of Hispanic Americans to the nation's history, culture, and achievements.