The mission of the SALC is to sponsor, plan, and coordinate events and programs for prospective, admitted, and current students in order to develop awareness of the University of Maryland’s campus life, opportunities, and resources. The SALC provides resources and opportunities in SORC, Stamp, and all across campus. If you’re bored and looking for something new, you will always be able to give file access to the appropriate members of your organization.

The Google Drive part ties in with the “Files” section in every organization’s OrgSync portal. You can store files in your organization’s Google Drive, and have set access for different users. Anytime you log into OrgSync, you immediately see a “News Feed” from organizations that you follow. You can subscribe to any of these feeds, and “share” with whatever members you want.

The Word is the newsletter of the SALC and everyone is invited to read it, subscribe to it, and share it. It’s a weekly newsletter featuring articles about student organizations, events, and campus life. You can access the latest edition of The Word at http://ter.ps/SALC, or you can sign up for an email subscription at the same link.

The University of Maryland Student Ambassadors are the University’s face to prospective students and parents, and the cornerstone of University of Maryland’s recruiting and admissions efforts. Applications for new student ambassadors are currently open and can be found on OrgSync.

The top 5 winners of the virtual competition will be selected to travel to the Super Bowl to represent the University of Maryland at the PepsiCo case competition.

· The top 5 winners of the virtual competition will also be invited to a private dinner and VIP tour of the PepsiCo headquarters with the University of Maryland representative from the Review Committee.
