Fraternity and Sorority Life

- Membership in a fraternity or sorority is a lifelong commitment; relationships created during college last well into adulthood.
- How do you get involved? Joining a Greek organization is one way to make UWL seem smaller, friendlier and easier to handle. Fraternities and sororities are also an incredible way to engage in the college experience by challenging you to achieve academic excellence, develop your leadership skills, and contribute to the University at large. Fraternities and sororities strive to enhance your college experience by tapping into the available resources.
- Fraternities and sororities allow students to meet many people through social events, service opportunities, and leadership positions. The men and women of these organizations dedicate themselves to bettering the campus community through service and leadership development. At their cores, Fraternities and Sororities are philanthropic organizations steeped in decades of tradition, customs and traditions.
