region is conducting approximately 8,400 tests a day, which is well above the state median of 7,290 tests a day. More than half of the tests are conducted in the San Diego region.

Another factor adding to the region’s ability to test is the continued expansion of its testing capacity. In late July, the Federal Emergency Management Agency granted The Loma Linda University School of Medicine and the University of California, San Diego, an experimental use permit to conduct xenon imaging testing. The imaging allows for early identification of COVID-19 in patients who do not present with symptoms but who still test positive. At the height of the pandemic, San Diego’s testing capacity was nowhere close to keeping up with demand. But with the opening of 23 local and federal testing sites, the estimated daily capacity is now over 23,000.

BOMA SAN DIEGO 2021 MEMBERSHIP RENEWALS

HOLIDAY GIFT DRIVE BIN SIGN UPS

We'd like to extend a warm welcome to our new members!

Despite the event being rescheduled due to COVID-19, Ronald McDonald House Charities benefit from the effort of the BOMA San Diego membership. We’re incredibly thankful to our committee member, Andrew, for jumping in feet first to spearhead the event. With Andrew’s leadership and hard work, the committee recognized Andrew Areces of RSI Roofing as our first honorary chair of the event. As a new member, Andrew generously donated a truckload of building materials to the Ronald McDonald House Charities. Andrew is a solo entrepreneur, and remains a key contributor to the success of the event and a driving force for its growth. He continues to provideGive.

EdF Renewals North America (EDFR) and Geenex Solar, LLC (Geenex), today announced the close of an agreement of up to 4.5 gigawatt (GWac) Solar Transact on a 10-year basis. The project is located in Arizona and the project is designed to be fully operational by 2024. The project has been awarded an interconnection agreement and has a long-term contract for energy sales. The project will be built jointly by EDF Renewables and Geenex Solar Transact on a 50/50 basis.

While there have been several utility-scale solar development projects announced recently, this is the first of its kind in Arizona. It is a testament to the growing demand for renewable energy in the state and the commitment of both EDF Renewables and Geenex Solar to developing projects that are both cost-effective and environmentally sustainable.
