Discussions will be interactive, feature Mason experts, and students will moderate each discussion.

March 30, 2022 | 4 to 7 p.m. | Virtual variations”.

March 25, 2022 | 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

932 7033 1520. Passcode: STEMchat.

March 25, 2022 | Noon to 1 p.m. | Virtual community, and promotes health, well-being, fitness, and disease prevention.

March 24, 2022 | 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. | Dewberry Hall, Johnson Center or $25 if requested after. Please help support the College of Science’s 2022 Degree Celebration on May 21, 2022 from 9 a.m. to noon by signing up to participate as a Faculty Degree Celebration Volunteer.

Research & Discovery

The Mason community is the driving force behind what George Mason University has accomplished in the past 50 years. Join us to celebrate and embark on new horizons, together. It’s Mason’s time.

We are proud of how far we’ve come and excited about the possibilities of what’s ahead. In just 50 years, Mason has become a force for change in the region and beyond. As for the next 50? It’s time to keep going.

The Mason community is the driving force behind what George Mason University has accomplished in the past 50 years. Join us to celebrate and embark on new horizons, together. It’s Mason’s time.

We are proud of how far we’ve come and excited about the possibilities of what’s ahead. In just 50 years, Mason has become a force for change in the region and beyond. As for the next 50? It’s time to keep going.

The Mason community is the driving force behind what George Mason University has accomplished in the past 50 years. Join us to celebrate and embark on new horizons, together. It’s Mason’s time.

We are proud of how far we’ve come and excited about the possibilities of what’s ahead. In just 50 years, Mason has become a force for change in the region and beyond. As for the next 50? It’s time to keep going.

The Mason community is the driving force behind what George Mason University has accomplished in the past 50 years. Join us to celebrate and embark on new horizons, together. It’s Mason’s time.

We are proud of how far we’ve come and excited about the possibilities of what’s ahead. In just 50 years, Mason has become a force for change in the region and beyond. As for the next 50? It’s time to keep going.