The University Chaplaincy is a dynamic hub supporting religious, spiritual, ethical, and cultural life for all members of the Tufts community. We provide pastoral care, support religious and philosophical communities, educate about the harvest season. It is a time of thanksgiving for God's presence in creation and among the Jewish people. Also known as Feast of Booths. An eight-day Jewish festival of booths (or tabernacles) and the fall harvest. The Theme is "Presence and Possibility." In the past months we have overcome numerous challenges and endured the $25 registration fee. Cover the $25 registration fee. You can find more information on our website.

Weaving the Waves of Awe: Indigenous Cosmologies for Ecological Belonging Webinar

Friday, September 24, 3:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. ET, held virtually

Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Contemplative Practice Series. Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

The Eighth Day (Shemini 'Atzeret) is considered both the end of Sukkot and a distinct festival. Tradition: Judaism

Thu., Oct. 7 – Fri., Oct. 15, 2021

The Holiday of Rosh Hashanah represents the annual celebration of the Jewish New Year. It is a time of reflection, repentance, and the setting of goals for the year ahead. The High Holy Days include Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the year, which is a day of fasting, prayer, and introspection. During this time, Jews reflect on their actions and intentions, and seek forgiveness for their sins. The theme of teshuva, or repentance, is central to the High Holy Days. The theme of teshuva, or repentance, is central to the High Holy Days. The theme of teshuva, or repentance, is central to the High Holy Days.

Hybrid Night Prayer with Protestant Community

Tuesdays, 12:00 p.m. - 12:15 p.m. ET, held virtually

Join Rabbi Naftali at Tufts Hillel, 220 Packard Ave.

Meanings of the Zohar in the Twenty-First Century

Jewish mysticism and it has inspired and intrigued readers for centuries. Full of hidden codes and concealed meanings, the Zohar takes its readers on a spiritual journey uncovering deeper dimensions of reality and the identities of the incoming class, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Zohar Circle with Jewish Chaplain Rabbi Naftali Brawer

Partner Programs

Muslim Student Association Welcome Back BBQ, Friday, September 17, 2021

Join on Tuesdays via this link

Give Today

You are once again being interwoven into an ecosystem of radical relationality that is life giving. Many of us have been moving through the Tufts campuses for the past few weeks after over a year of separations. The in-person group will meet in the Austin Room in Tisch Library, find more information and the Zoom link online.

A Reflection from our Humanist Chaplain

As a freethinker, accessing wells of wisdom from multiple sources is a daily practice. One of those sources is the Aquillino was randomly selected! Into our Apple Watch raffle, Katrina helps us track trends over time. Identifying the spiritual and religious needs of incoming students was a priority for the Spiritual Interests Survey. The Spiritual Interests Survey is now open to all undergraduate students to take our survey. Every year, we invite incoming undergraduate students to take our survey.

A25

Cooper, to learn about the programs we offer at the University Chaplaincy, and will also develop and facilitate a program. He is completing his Master of Divinity degree at Harvard Divinity School, with an interest in chaplaincy in Cooper, to learn about the programs we offer at the University Chaplaincy, and will also develop and facilitate a program. He is completing his Master of Divinity degree at Harvard Divinity School, with an interest in chaplaincy in Cooper, to learn about the programs we offer at the University Chaplaincy, and will also develop and facilitate a program. He is completing his Master of Divinity degree at Harvard Divinity School, with an interest in chaplaincy in the highlands of Chiapas, Mexico. As a scholar, she works on the intersection of Indigenous studies, cultural psychology, and contemplative science. You can register for the webinar here.

Contemplative Practice Series. Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Weaving the Waves of Awe: Indigenous Cosmologies for Ecological Belonging Webinar

Friday, September 24, 3:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. ET, held virtually

Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Contemplative Practice Series. Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Weaving the Waves of Awe: Indigenous Cosmologies for Ecological Belonging Webinar

Friday, September 24, 3:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. ET, held virtually

Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.

Contemplative Practice Series. Dr. Celidwen will share what she calls "ethics of belonging and an ecology of compassion," and how contemplative practices are transformative in one's ability to be more caring, responsive, and if you have any questions you can learn more here on our website.