To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

This email was sent to.

Got this as a forward?

Manage

Contents of this Month's Update

annual report.

about what our team does to help support these functions by reading our most recent CINA activities related to its mission of disabling transnational criminal organizations. Learn more

The CINA Center pursues three categories of workforce and professional development merit, have academic benefits and demonstrate the research is relevant to DHS missions. Follow-on funding may be awarded to projects that show superior

University of New York, Jackson State, and the University of North Texas, collaborated and the DHS mission and its research needs. In 2021, CINA's partner teams from The City

Each summer, CINA selects faculty and student teams from Minority Serving Institutions funding from DHS S&T

All 2021 CINA Summer Research Teams receive follow on security enterprise with state-of-the-art knowledge, expertise, methods, tools, and technologies equip practitioners, end users, decision makers, and U.S. policy makers in the homeland

The CINA center pursues a comprehensive set of programs and activities that are designed to

Mason Forensic Science Program Director and CINA Science Committee member, Mary Ellen Mason's Greenhouse and Gardens sustainability program. Together, under the leadership of

Newsweek

attention

between George Mason University's Honey Bee Initiative, the new outdoor Forensic Science Research and Training Laboratory, and

Read about our research portfolio

CIMA sponsored students participate in DHS CIMA Critical Infrastructure Hackathon

Mission student team wins $3,000 prize

On February 25-27, 2022, a collaboration of DHS Centers of Excellence including CINA offered a virtual Infrastructure Hackathon

Milestones:

• CIMA sponsored students participate in DHS CIMA Critical Infrastructure Hackathon

• Mission student team wins $3,000 prize

• On February 25-27, 2022, a collaboration of DHS Centers of Excellence including CINA offered a virtual Infrastructure Hackathon

RESEARCH

Using lazy lines to make some cases gain attention

Research using lazy lines to make some cases gain attention

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

2021 CIMA Summer Research Teams receive follow on funding

All 2021 CIMA Summer Research Teams receive follow on funding

Get more news

Distinguished Speaker Series

Maria Tillyer: "Open Source Data and Predictive Modeling for High-Density Crime Areas"

Get the annual report

WORKFORCE Development Overview

The CIMA Center pursues three categories of workforce and professional development:

• CIMA sponsored students participate in DHS CIMA Critical Infrastructure Hackathon

• Mission student team wins $3,000 prize

• On February 25-27, 2022, a collaboration of DHS Centers of Excellence including CINA offered a virtual Infrastructure Hackathon

Find out more about the program

Read more