or Tiger Athletic Foundation. Our goal is for 1,860 Tigers—in honor of LSU's founding year 1860—to participate in commencement events. The LSU Foundation is pleased to offer a gold oak leaf and gold oak pin to wear at commencement and for years to come. Learn more and give at www.lsu.edu/1860.

It's a day for Tigers to rally behind one another and celebrate the success of our students, faculty, and staff as they deliver solutions that make our world better. Give to LSU. Give to a future where dreams become reality. Give to the LSU Foundation.

For spring break, the LSU廉洁 Campus Team will work through the spring and summer months to fulfill wait list requests for housing. Is your Tiger thinking about taking summer courses at LSU? Summer courses offer a variety of benefits, such as the ability to avoid a full semester course load, to focus on a challenging subject without a full semester commitment, or to keep a challenging course load light in the spring or fall. The deadline to register for summer courses is May 31.

Yesterday's updates include:

* Tiger Alumni, faculty, and staff can now update their contact information here.
* A EPIC egg hunt will be held in the LSU Student Union April 10.
* The LSU Student Union Research and Creativity Symposium is a great opportunity for campus-wide research and creative work. Get a head start in engineering!
* Nicklaus will allow your Tiger to explore the outdoors over 7 days of backpacking, camping, and more.

As the academic year draws to a close, we have gathered a few events to keep your Tiger's summer plans in mind.

Students who didn't get their preferred campus housing offer may consider applying as a supplemental offer.
