Greetings from the whole University Chaplaincy Team

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

View this email
Got this as a forward?
Manage
Share this email:

Tufts University Chaplaincy | Goddard Chapel, 3 The Green | Medford, MA 02155 USA

From The Venerable Priya Sraman, Buddhist Chaplain:

“May your next year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world.”

From Imam Abdul-Malik Merchant, Muslim Chaplain:

“May this season with loved ones be filled with reflection and introspection, and in the great African American tradition of the winter season, may this time of peace, reflection, and rest be a sign of hope and peace for the year to come.”

From Thomas B. Dawkins, Music Director and Organist:

“This Advent and Christmas, may the joy of Jesus’ coming be a beacon of hope, love, and goodness.”

From Walker Bristol, Humanist Chaplain:

“Let the new year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world.”

From Nora Bond, Program Manager:

“May the New Year bring blessings of Peace and Light to your life, no matter where you are in the world.”

From Rev. Dan Bell, Protestant Chaplain:

“May the Sun of Righteousness shine upon you and scatter the darkness from before your path; and may the New Year bring blessings of Peace and Light to your life, no matter where you are in the world.”

From Preeta Banerjee, Hindu Advisor:

“May the Sacred Fire of the Winter Solstice be a light in your heart, a source of warmth and light, and a way into a new calendar year.”

The entire University Chaplaincy team offers, in their own words, their greetings and wishes for your winter break. May your time with loved ones be filled with reflection and introspection, and in the great African American tradition of the winter season, may this time of peace, reflection, and rest be a sign of hope and peace for the year to come. May the New Year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world. Deep peace of the quiet earth.

Deep peace of the shining stars to you,

Deep peace of the flowing air,

A Winter Greeting from the University Chaplain

Offerings and resources

Greetings from the whole University Chaplaincy Team

From The Venerable Priya Sraman, Buddhist Chaplain:

“May your next year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world.”

From Imam Abdul-Malik Merchant, Muslim Chaplain:

“May this season with loved ones be filled with reflection and introspection, and in the great African American tradition of the winter season, may this time of peace, reflection, and rest be a sign of hope and peace for the year to come.”

From Thomas B. Dawkins, Music Director and Organist:

“This Advent and Christmas, may the joy of Jesus’ coming be a beacon of hope, love, and goodness.”

From Walker Bristol, Humanist Chaplain:

“Let the new year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world.”

From Nora Bond, Program Manager:

“May the New Year bring blessings of Peace and Light to your life, no matter where you are in the world.”

From Rev. Dan Bell, Protestant Chaplain:

“May the Sun of Righteousness shine upon you and scatter the darkness from before your path; and may the New Year bring blessings of Peace and Light to your life, no matter where you are in the world.”

From Preeta Banerjee, Hindu Advisor:

“May the Sacred Fire of the Winter Solstice be a light in your heart, a source of warmth and light, and a way into a new calendar year.”

The entire University Chaplaincy team offers, in their own words, their greetings and wishes for your winter break. May your time with loved ones be filled with reflection and introspection, and in the great African American tradition of the winter season, may this time of peace, reflection, and rest be a sign of hope and peace for the year to come. May the New Year bring fresh blessings and opportunities to heal our broken world. Deep peace of the quiet earth.

Deep peace of the shining stars to you,

Deep peace of the flowing air,