- Bhagavad-gita As It Is
  - Every Friday, October 15, 12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m., in-person and virtual

- Join Catholic Chaplain Lynn Cooper in Goddard Chapel for this week's Spirituality Hour. This mid-week gathering is a chance to pause and reflect. Each week, Lynn invites students to experiment with different kinds of spiritual practices. Practices have included praying the psalms, letter writing, collaging, deep breathing, contemplation, and more. It's a way to engage in spiritual life and community. Join us this week as we explore the Bhagavad-gita, a treasured theological and philosophical classic.

- Beinart, CNN political commentator, Editor-at-Large for Jewish Currents and Associate Professor of Journalism & Tisch College Solomont Speaker Series: Peter Beinart on "Antisemitism, U.S.-Israel Relations, & the Moral Battle of Our Time"
  - Friday, October 15, 12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m., in-person and virtual

- Stretching legs and reaching minds: Project Connect with Counseling and Mental Health Services
  - Rolling applications are now open. Participants for this next round of Project Connect, which will begin meeting the week of October 17 and will end the week of December 16, 2021. These weekly gatherings allow students to engage in conversations about mental health and wellness and to navigate life at Tufts. The sessions cover topics such as: building and maintaining positive relationships, creating and maintaining healthy boundaries, finding and maintaining purpose and meaning, and exploring resilience as we navigate the world. If you're interested in helping the Tufts community during the 2021-2022 academic year, apply to be part of the Tufts Healthy Herd, an undergraduate student group dedicated to creating engaging and educational content around wellness and wellbeing. Applications are rolling. Those accepted will be employed for the 2021-2022 Academic year starting immediately and lasting until May 16.
