November 2024

Dear Colleague,

November is a month of gratitude, and I want to thank everyone who has been so supportive of Emerging Destinations and my team. It's been a record year of growth for us and we couldn't have done it without you!

One bit of great news we have this month is the fact that Iceland ProCruises has been retooling its programs and is now offering fully packaged trips with Oceanwide Expeditions to the Arctic. We're offering very competitive commissions on these packages.

Malta is getting more and more popular as travelers look for alternatives to heavily trafficked European destinations — and MiMalta can help.

Have you seen the movie Lonely Planet on Netflix? If anyone you know has thought about going to Morocco, I strongly suggest you watch it. I recently watched with my three sisters and now all of them want to visit that gorgeous country!

The team at Yadi Tours has also watched Lonely Planet and can plan a trip that revolves around locations in the movie. (And why are we featuring Yadi in our Europe newsletter? Because so many people do it as an add on from Spain and Portugal!)

Our team is available to assist you with anything! And thank you again for your support over the past year.

Jane, Ana, Jenna & Paula
